Official Count Fails To Alter Vote Results

Narrow Victories In Various Contests Upheld By Canvass

The County Election Board today certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown the official results of Tuesday's election which confirmed the 16-vote victory of Harold R. Maylone, Republican, for Fourth Ward councilman.

Completed late Friday, the official canvass also upheld narrow victories for Fourth Ward Council in Wellsville and the Wellsville Board of Education, Washingtonville mayor and Leetonia Council, Frank R. O'Hanlon, director of elections, said.

The official canvass showed Maylone polling 665 votes to 649 for his Democratic opponent, Robert B. Laughlin, for the Fourth Ward seat here. The final tally matched the unofficial returns compiled by the board Tuesday.

There has been no indication Laughlin will seek a recount of the votes in a bid to overturn the result, O'Hanlon said. Applications for recounts specifying the precincts in which a new tabulation is sought and a $10 cash bond for each precinct must be filed within five days of today's certification, he said.

James B. Phillips, Republican, won election as Fourth Ward representative in Wellsville by a 5-vote margin over Virginia Heaton, Democrat. Phillips polled 400 votes to 395 for his opponent.

The official canvass also upheld the defeat of Russell Dysert, president of the Board of Education who was seeking re-election. The final return showed William F. Ferrall, incumbent, polled 794 votes to 790 for Dysert, while Daniel L. Mason led the ticket with 891 votes.

In the Washingtonville mayoralty contest, the canvass showed Mayor B. W. Snow won re-election by a five - vote margin over William A. Radler, 133-128. Both were running as nonpartisans.

Radler already has indicated to the board he will ask a re-

Navy Plane Downed

U. S. Jets Bomb Viet Missile Site

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Navy jets struck at a Communist surface-to-air missile site 35 miles east of Hanoi after a Navy F8 Crusader jet was shot down near the site, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

Pilots reported that one missile launcher was hit in the raid Friday. They said they also saw another explosion in the complex.

The pilot of the Crusader, the 134th plane lost in North Viet Nam, was seen parachuting by the other pilots. However, he landed in a densely populated area and no attempt was made to rescue him.

The U.S. Army's 1st Infantry Division, the "Big Red One," was in action 20 miles north of Saigon Friday and today. They uncovered an extensive tunnel complex and overran an underground medical aid station.

The division took light casualties and killed at least five Viet Cong, spokesmen said.

South Vietnamese troops reportedly killed 12 Viet Cong and captured five in a day-long sweep south of Saigon Friday.

The downed jet was one of a group from the 7th Fleet carrier Oriskany. The target was the Hai Duong railroad-highway bridge 35 miles east of Hanoi.

Direct hits were made on the bridge, pilots said.

About 15 Navy planes made the strike. They reported seeing five missiles fired from a site near the bridge. None hit the attacking planes. The Crusader was knocked down by conventional antiaircraft fire.

The Navy planes dropped 35 tons of bombs during the action against the bridge and missile site. They encountered heavy antiaircraft fire.

Navy planes from the carrier Independence struck the Bach Long radar site early Friday. The site, 70 miles offshore in the South China Sea, was heavily damaged, the pilots reported.

Armed route reconnaissance missions were flown by other Navy planes and U.S. Air Force planes over the Communist north Friday and today.

Ferry facilities, barges and road and rail bridges were damaged.

U.S. armed helicopters had one of their heaviest operational days in Viet Nam Friday. They logged nearly 9,000 sorties.

A woman anti-Viet Cong fighter known as the Tiger Lady of the Mekong Delta was reported shot to death. The Saigon Post reported Friday Ho Thi Que, 39, was shot last Thursday after a heated argument with her soldier-husband.

The newspaper said one source described the shooting as an accident but it speculated that jealousy might have figured in.

Leaders End Canada Vote Drive Efforts

Observers Predict Pearson, Party Will Win Monday Ballot

TORONTO (AP) — Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and his Conservative rival, John Diefenbaker, plunged into a final day of campaigning today, with Pearson's Liberal party generally picked to win Monday's election.

Fighting off a cold, the prime minister, 68, wound up his campaign in the Ottawa area after addressing a large rally Friday night in Hamilton, Ont. Diefenbaker electioneered in his home district at Prince Albert, Sask.

Political experts who have traveled across the country say Pearson has a good chance to emerge with enough seats in the House of Commons to give him the clear majority he seeks. Even the more cautious predict that the Liberals will win enough to form another minority government.

The Montreal Gazette, supporting the Liberals, predicts the Liberals will win 140 of the 265 seats and the Conservatives 93. The Winnipeg Free Press, also liberal, estimates the Liberals will get 146 to 150. The Toronto Globe and Mail, Conservative, gives the Liberals 137 and the Conservative Winnipeg Tribune predicts 126 for the Liberals.

The Liberals are expected to pick up seats in French-speaking Quebec Province and in Ontario, the two most populous provinces, which have 75 and 85 seats, respectively.

Council Receives Details Of Plan For Sale Of Water

A proposed contract for the sale of water to a county authority for distribution in the St. Clair Township area was detailed for City Council by Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper at a special meeting this morning at City Hall.

At a caucus session preceding a brief session when two amended ordinances were passed unanimously under suspension of rules, Cooper asked Council to study the terms of the tentative long - term agreement and make any suggestions for changes by Wednesday.

Copies also have been turned over to the Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water system, for study and possible revision, the solicitor said.

He urged that suggested revisions be given him by Wednesday so that the changes can be incorporated into the contract before it is turned over to Columbiana County commissioners for study.

Cooper explained that many of the terms, including tentative rates, were suggested by the utilities board.

The agreement may run any where from 20 to 30 years, with the final decision to be decided by the utilities board and commissioners, the solicitor said, explaining that he feels a long term agreement is necessary in order that the Columbiana County Water and Sewer District No. 2 can sell bonds to cover the costs of the proposed water system.

The tentative agreement sets forth the length of the contract, the rates the city shall charge the district for water it purchases, where the city will deliver the water and steps it will take to maintain water pres-

Redman said Bliss reported no pain late Friday night, ate his dinner "and was in good spirits."

Smith Rejects Plan

White Rhodesians Spurn Vote Proposal By Wilson

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Prime Minister Ian Smith rejected today British Prime Minister Harold Wilson's proposal for a vote among Rhodesia's white minority and black African majority on whether they favor independence on the basis of the 1961 constitution.

"I regret to say the impression you left with us (during Wilson's recent visit to Salisbury) of a determined effort to resolve our constitutional problems has been utterly dissipated," Smith said in a letter to Wilson.

"It would seem that you have now finally closed the door you claimed publicly to have opened," Smith said.

Wilson made his proposal in a letter to Smith on Wednesday. Smith's reply said:

"I regret to tell you that the only conclusion to be derived from your letter is that it is tantamount to, and can only be interpreted as, a rejection of the proposals (regarding a royal commission) agreed with you in Salisbury.

The reference by Smith to the closing of the door, and Friday's dramatic declaration of a countrywide state of emergency, gave rise to fresh speculation that Smith and his all-white government may be preparing the way for an early unilateral declaration of independence.

But Smith was scheduled to leave the capital during the weekend and some observers took this to mean that he did not plan to seize independence immediately.

Wilson had agreed to Smith's proposal that a royal commission decide whether all Rhodesians want independence on the basis of the existing 1961 constitution. Rhodesia's 225,000 whites control the government and wealth of this central African colony.

Britain refuses to grant independence without being satisfied with arrangements for full political voice for the colony's four million Africans.

Court Agrees To Hear Vote Law Appeals

Review Scheduled On '65 Legislation For Election Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to hear South Carolina's claim that the 1965 voting rights law is unconstitutional.

It has invited other states which may want to fight the law side by side with South Carolina to get their requests in.

This action, announced after the justices had concluded their customary Friday conference, means an early judgment on the claim by Southern officials that the law is an unconstitutional usurpation of states' rights to oversee elections.

The court's decision to take the case directly also means that South Carolina will be spared the chore of carrying its battle through lower federal courts.

What South Carolina is seeking is an immediate halt to the dispatch of federal registrars to the state. The quickest way it could hope to achieve this would be to sue the federal government and have the case heard by the country's highest court.

Thus South Carolina asked the Supreme Court Sept. 29 to accept filing of an original suit — original in that the first action is before the Supreme Court.

Chicago Driver Hurt As Car Leaves Road

A Chicago man was reported in fairly good condition at City Hospital following a one - car mishap on Route 30 near Laughlin's Corners early this morning.

James Wilson of 3734 W. Magnolia Ave., Chicago, was traveling west at 1:45 when his car failed to negotiate a curve, left the highway and hit an abutment.

He was taken to City Hospital, where he received treatment for abrasions of the forehead, chest and a puncture wound of the right forearm.

Pennsylvania State Police at Carnegie Barracks said Wilson apparently was driving at a high rate of speed when the accident happened. The auto, which was leased from a rental firm, was damaged extensively.

Red Move Poses Threat To Truce

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The threat of a U.S.-Soviet split on the India-Pakistan crisis cast a shadow today over a new move by the Security Council to enforce the shaky truce.

The Soviet Union broke the big power unanimity that had prevailed on the issue when it abstained Friday on a council resolution demanding that both sides stop violating the cease-fire and agree to a deadline for pulling back their troops.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko said he refrained from voting because the resolution ignored a Soviet demand for a three-month limit on keeping U.N. truce observers in India and Pakistan.

Fedorenko, however, did not cast a big power veto, which would have killed the resolution. It passed 9-0 with the Soviet Union and Jordan abstaining.

Delegates expressed fear that U.S. efforts to establish a meaningful peace between India and Pakistan might be scuttled if the two big powers split over the issue.

The rare cooperation shown by the United States and the Soviet Union in working to stop the shooting war on the Indian subcontinent has been credited largely for the Security Council's success in bringing about a cease-fire.

With the threat of economic sanctions bolstering the council's demands for a truce, India and Pakistan complied.

A cutoff in economic aid from the United States and the Soviet Union would have spelled financial disaster for both.

Fedorenko blamed the "United States and others" for the break in the united front that had seen the council make unanimous decisions on the Asian crisis except for a lone Jordanian abstention on Sept. 20.

"We have drawn special attention," he told the council, "to the fact that the Security Council should set up a concrete time limit for the presence of U.N. observers, which in any event must not exceed three months.

LBJ Grants Request

Morrissey Ends Efforts To Obtain Judge Position

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The final curtain has been drawn on an unusual political drama involving President Johnson and the family of John F. Kennedy —the controversial nomination of Francis X. Morrissey for a federal judgeship.

Johnson, recuperating from surgery at his ranch home near here, received a letter from Morrissey Friday in which the Boston Municipal Court judge, a longtime political aide of the Kennedy family, said:

"To prevent further anguish to my family and further harassment to you and to those who have supported me so loyally, I respectfully request that my nomination to the federal bench be withdrawn."

Johnson wired back that he would scrap the nomination as requested, but added:

"Let me say that you have in recent weeks demonstrated real courage and qualities of character I greatly admire and of which your children can always be proud."

All this was anticlimactic in the sense that Morrissey's chief sponsor, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., last month had the nomination put in the deep freeze after running into strong opposition from the American Bar Association and such colleagues as Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

President Reports Over 3,000 Cubans Slated Each Month

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)— President Johnson announced today the signing of an agreement with Cuba permitting 3,000 to 4,000 Cuban refugees each month to fly to the United States on American planes.

It was agreed that the movement of refugees will begin "not later than Dec. 1."

Johnson expressed his satisfaction with the agreement, saying in a statement:

"I am pleased with the understanding which has been reached. It is an important forward step in carrying out the declaration I made on Oct. 3 to the Cuban people. I said that those who seek refuge here will find it. That continues to be the policy of the American people."

Priority will be given to Cubans who have immediate family relatives already living in the United States.

The refugee exodus will be by commercial airliners chartered by the United States government. The planes will fly out of the airport at Varadero, Cuba, 60 miles east of Havana.

The designation "immediate relatives" is defined as parents of unmarried children under age 21, spouses, unmarried children under the age of 21 and brothers and sisters under 21.

The Swiss Embassy in Havana, which played a key role in negotiating the "memorandum of understanding" with the Castro government, will be entrusted by both Cuba and the United States with verifying that would-be refugees meet the priority criteria.

Hunt Pushed For 4 Airmen Taken In Viet

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Four U.S. Air Force personnel have been abducted by the Viet Cong, a U.S. military spokesman said tonight.

The spokesman said the Americans, all noncommissioned officers, have been missing since last Sunday night and a gigantic search and rescue operation is under way to recover them.

As he explained it, the four were stopped at a roadblock between the seaport of Vung Tau and Saigon. Vung Tau is 45 miles southeast of Saigon on the South China Sea.

Their names were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Small groups of Americans ordinarily make the trip between Saigon and Vung Tau, both a military center and a popular resort, by plane or helicopter.

There was no official explanation why the four were traveling by car. However, informed sources said they had been vacationing at Vung Tau and hitched a ride to Saigon because their aircraft was disabled.

These sources said one of the Americans had escaped, but there was no official confirmation.

The American reported to have escaped was quoted as saying he believed one of the other three may have been killed as he tried to shoot his way to freedom.

Morrissey Ends Efforts To Obtain Judge Position

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The final curtain has been drawn on an unusual political drama involving President Johnson and the family of John F. Kennedy —the controversial nomination of Francis X. Morrissey for a federal judgeship.

Johnson, recuperating from surgery at his ranch home near here, received a letter from Morrissey Friday in which the Boston Municipal Court judge, a longtime political aide of the Kennedy family, said:

"To prevent further anguish to my family and further harassment to you and to those who have supported me so loyally, I respectfully request that my nomination to the federal bench be withdrawn."

Johnson wired back that he would scrap the nomination as requested, but added:

"Let me say that you have in recent weeks demonstrated real courage and qualities of character I greatly admire and of which your children can always be proud."

All this was anticlimactic in the sense that Morrissey's chief sponsor, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., last month had the nomination put in the deep freeze after running into strong opposition from the American Bar Association and such colleagues as Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Hays, Gosney Bid For Posts

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, Democrat, today began circulation of petitions to file for a new term in Congress in the recently-realigned 18th Congressional District.

Hays obtained the petitions at the Columbiana County Election Board office in East Liverpool. When completed, the petitions will be filed here. The board here administers elections in the congressional district because Columbiana still populous of the seven counties now comprising the district.

Meanwhile, Don E. Gosney of Columbiana village, filed with the board in East Liverpool to seek another term as the 18th Congressional District member of the Democratic State Central Committee. Gosney also is the Columbiana County Democratic chairman and a member of the county's election board.

Under its recent realignment, the congressional district is comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont, Tuscarawas, Harrison, Monroe and Noble Counties. Before the boundaries were changed, it was made up of Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont, Carroll and Harrison Counties.

Hays is scheduled to speak tonight at an anniversary dinner of the Salem Knights of Columbus Council. He will return to Salem next Thursday night to speak at a Veterans Day observance of the Saxon Club.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, county director of elections, reminded that Feb. 2 at 4 p.m. is the filing deadline—in most instances,—for offices that will be filled in the 1966 elections. The lone exception is in the case of candidates for County Court judgeships, who must file by 4 p.m. Aug. 10.

The 1966 primaries will fall on May 3. The general election will be Nov. 8.

Ohioans will elect a governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, state auditor, secretary of state, state treasurer and two judges of the Supreme Court. They also will name congressmen in the 24 districts, state senators in some districts and judges of the Courts of Appeals.

In each county, voters will name a county commissioner and a county auditor. In some counties, probate and common pleas court judges and county court judges also will be selected.

Riesel Predicts Teacher Push By Organized Labor

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Members of the East Central Ohio Teachers Association have been warned that school teachers are the next major target of organized labor and of Communists.

The warning was sounded Friday by labor writer Victor Reisel, who was blinded by acid tossed by an assailant in New York City nine years ago. He addressed the teachers at their annual convention.

Riesel said that labor would attempt to organize teachers in its first step toward unionization of five million white collar workers.

Turning to Communists, he said that if communism captures the teachers "it will in turn unleash the students," adding that governments have crumbled over student riots.

G. R. Bowers of Stark County, superintendent of Plain local schools, was installed as president of the association.

Election Board Briefed On Reapportionment

The County Election Board today was notified by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown of the effect the reapportionment of the state legislature, recently approved by a three - judge federal panel, will have on Columbiana County.

The county will comprise the 34th House District, which will not overlap into any adjoining counties, Brown advised Frank R. O'Hanlon, director of elections.

The 1966 election will be administered under the terms of the court - ordered reapportionment which was drawn up by Gov. James A. Rhodes, State Auditor Roger Cloud and Brown, O'Hanlon said.

Under the provisions of the reapportionment, it will be a part of the 30th State Senatorial District, which also will include Jefferson, Carroll and Harrison counties and the eastern part of Tuscarawas County, including 12 townships and the city of New Philadelphia, O'Hanlon was told.

The senatorial district embraces House Districts 32-33-34 and has a population of 290,333, the secretary of state said.

Because Columbiana is the most populous of the counties in the senatorial district, it will supervise the election. Candidates to represent the 30th District will file petitions with the county board, which also will gather election returns from the other counties and certify the official results to the secretary of state's office, O'Hanlon said.

The reapportionment provides that senators in even - numbered districts will be elected for two years, O'Hanlon said, explaining that election of a state senator next year in the 30th district will be for a two-year term.

Odd - numbered districts will elect state senators for four-year terms, he added.

Under the former apportionment of the legislature, Columbiana County also elected its own representative. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon is the incumbent.

However, it was part of the 20th - 22nd State Senatorial District, which then included Belmont County, and was represented by Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville.

A Maplewood motorist was accused of drunken driving and an 81-year-old Hammondsville driver was cited for reckless driving as the aftermath of two city traffic mishaps Friday afternoon, police reported.

Clark B. Kevan, 57, of 410 Azalea Ave. was charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor after a crash at 2:49 p. m. at Walnut and E. 4th Sts.

Police said Kevan's northbound auto struck the parked car of Robert G. Bird, 509 Center St., damaging the right front of the Kevan auto and the left rear of the Beechwood man's auto.

Bird told police he was standing at the rear of his car when he spotted Kevan coming across the intersection at him and leaped out of his path. Kevan did not know what happened, police said.

Smith was not able to tell officers what happened, but Laughlin said both had descended Jefferson St. and had turned onto W. 8th. The Wellsville autoist said he was in the curb lane when Smith cut across from the other lane and hit his auto.

Election Board Briefed On Reapportionment

The County Election Board today was notified by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown of the effect the reapportionment of the state legislature, recently approved by a three - judge federal panel, will have on Columbiana County.

The county will comprise the 34th House District, which will not overlap into any adjoining counties, Brown advised Frank R. O'Hanlon, director of elections.

The 1966 election will be administered under the terms of the court - ordered reapportionment which was drawn up by Gov. James A. Rhodes, State Auditor Roger Cloud and Brown, O'Hanlon said.

Under the provisions of the reapportionment, it will be a part of the 30th State Senatorial District, which also will include Jefferson, Carroll and Harrison counties and the eastern part of Tuscarawas County, including 12 townships and the city of New Philadelphia, O'Hanlon was told.

The senatorial district embraces House Districts 32-33-34 and has a population of 290,333, the secretary of state said.

Because Columbiana is the most populous of the counties in the senatorial district, it will supervise the election. Candidates to represent the 30th District will file petitions with the county board, which also will gather election returns from the other counties and certify the official results to the secretary of state's office, O'Hanlon said.

The reapportionment provides that senators in even - numbered districts will be elected for two years, O'Hanlon said, explaining that election of a state senator next year in the 30th district will be for a two-year term.

Odd - numbered districts will elect state senators for four-year terms, he added.

Under the former apportionment of the legislature, Columbiana County also elected its own representative. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon is the incumbent.

Two Charged In Accidents

A Maplewood motorist was accused of drunken driving and an 81-year-old Hammondsville driver was cited for reckless driving as the aftermath of two city traffic mishaps Friday afternoon, police reported.

Clark B. Kevan, 57, of 410 Azalea Ave. was charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor after a crash at 2:49 p. m. at Walnut and E. 4th Sts.

Police said Kevan's northbound auto struck the parked car of Robert G. Bird, 509 Center St., damaging the right front of the Kevan auto and the left rear of the Beechwood man's auto.

Bird told police he was standing at the rear of his car when he spotted Kevan coming across the intersection at him and leaped out of his path. Kevan did not know what happened, police said.

Jay F. Smith of Hammondsville, driving a pickup truck, was cited on the reckless operation charge after a collision at 3:55 p. m. yesterday at W. 8th and Jefferson Sts.

Police said his truck was involved in a crash with a 1965 auto driven by Robert E. Laughlin, 43, of 1225 Clover St. as both were turning onto W. 8th from Jefferson St.

Smith was not able to tell officers what happened, but Laughlin said both had descended Jefferson St. and had turned onto W. 8th. The Wellsville autoist said he was in the curb lane when Smith cut across from the other lane and hit his auto.

sure for residents living north of the Henry Ave. standpipes

It also covers action the city will take in event any part of the water and sewage district is annexed to the city and makes provision to safeguard the city for any damages in event of equipment failure or water shortage.

Cooper explained that Council approval is required before the utilities board can enter into the contract with the authority.

The proposed sale has been discussed several times previously by Council and the commissioners.

In the special meeting, Council amended a parking ordinance to ban parking on the east side of St. Clair Ave. improvement from Princeton Ave. to the north city limits.

The amended ordinance also authorized the return of $582.99 remaining from the city's seal coating appropriation this fall to the income tax fund, and the appropriation of $477 from the income tax fund to the multiple surface treatment fund out of which the city paid its share for the low - cost surfacing program. It also covers action the city will take in event any part of the water and sewage district is annexed to the city and makes provision to safeguard the city for any damages in event of equipment failure or water shortage.

Cooper explained that Council approval is required before the utilities board can enter into the contract with the authority.

The proposed sale has been discussed several times previously by Council and the commissioners.

In the special meeting, Council amended a parking ordinance to ban parking on the east side of St. Clair Ave. improvement from Princeton Ave. to the north city limits.

The east side of the street was posted several weeks ago against parking. Passed as emergency legislation, the amended ordinance will become effective as soon as it is signed by Mayor George E. Willshaw.

A series of fund transfers within the water and sewage departments was approved in an amended appropriations ordinance.

The amended ordinance also authorized the return of $582.99 remaining from the city's seal coating appropriation this fall to the income tax fund, and the appropriation of $477 from the income tax fund to the multiple surface treatment fund out of which the city paid its share for the low - cost surfacing program. Under the program, householders pay 50 per cent of the cost and the city pays the other half plus the cost of any intersections.

Climaxing a trial that began Wednesday, Judge Joel H. Sharp deferred sentencing of the pair pending a motion for a new trial.

Someone Did Something Right

President Johnson has signed a new agriculture bill and set up a National Advisory Commission Food and Fiber to report to him in 18 months.

It is unlikely a new presidential commission to study agriculture and recommend federal programs will come up with anything new.

The agriculture problem has been with mankind since Joseph set up the first ever-normal granary. And in the expected course of events it will still be plaguing the human race 10,000 years from now.

On this basis of reasoning, the farm problem is not an emergency. It is a fixture of human endeavor, one of the inevitable consequences of humanity's endless effort to survive.

To hear U.S. critics of farm policy talk about it, however, one might think this country's failures were monumental. The fact is any country on earth would jump at a chance to have the U.S. record to its credit.

Nowhere else have men been able to feed themselves to a point of satiety and have something left over.

Nowhere else have men been able to nourish themselves as well as they are nourished in the United States.

No other nation has a problem of what to do with food and fiber in excess of its own needs.

In a society that complains endlessly about producing more than it can use someone must have been doing a great many things right.

But this never will be admitted. It is ingrained in the nature of Americans to complain as bitterly about their successes as their failures and to double the bitterness if the successes and failures are in another sector of the economy.

Thus, U.S. businessmen can be counted on to carp about agriculture with zeal matched only by that of agriculturists carping about U.S. businessmen.

Food consumers say it costs too much to eat, and food producers say it costs too much to buy clothes, services, machinery and materials.

This is a happy hunting ground for politicians, who can play off the critics against one another, which is what they have been doing for centuries and will do for all time to come.

There can be no one-package, all-inclusive, universally satisfactory solution to the farm problem. Mankind has been looking for one since the first tick of time and so far has found nothing that can compare with what has happened in the United States, where a fifth of the population now produces more than enough food for everybody.

No other nation, no other civilization, ever did as well.

As to the latest agricultural law, it may be no better than any of its predecessors. If it's as good, there can be no extra-bitter complaints. Its backers insist it's better.

Sensible Action

Sensible was the action that led to the dismissal of the cases against 11 downtown East Liverpool merchants in the Sunday sales controversy.

As was brought out in court, matters had reached the ridiculous stage.

While the solution may be only temporary—as the judge cautioned — at least the air has been cleared and the need for a new approach on a statewide level re-emphasized.

Incidents similar to those here have been occurring from time to time throughout Ohio, pointing up the inadequacy of the present law and the need for complete revision. Ambiguity and confusion is the order of the day as things now stand.

The furore locally over the "blue laws" could serve a useful purpose if it helps tip the scales in favor of new, more understandable and sensible legislation.

That's The General Idea

Britain's Princess Margaret and her young husband are going to wonder every night when they pull down the shades and call it another day during their visit here about the fuss Americans make over second-line royalty. They aren't used to it at home.

We wonder about it ourselves.

It has something to do with human instinct. Americans have no royalty of their own to fuss over, so they find substitute satisfaction in fussing over political, theatrical and sports personages. When real royalty shows up, it's an occasion.

One time years ago — 1926 — Americans had a crack at a real queen, Marie of Romania, and made such a holy show while she traveled around this Republic that old-timers still blush at the recollection.

British royalty, of course, has an inside track, being in the family through marriage. And young British royalty has an inside track on a downhill slope, especially when it is personable with a sparkle of gaiety to waft away inhibitions that never repress the less than royal.

Gaiety will come out like a penned-up tiger while Princess Margaret and the Earl of Snowdon are with us. It's a harmless effusion.

We secretly wish we could have a princess of our own. Once upon a time, we had Princess Alice Roosevelt. Much later, we had a Princess Margaret of our own—Margaret Truman. Currently we have two princesses, Lynda and Luci.

People have to have something nice to think about from time to time. For most of us, being royalty and having everybody think about you is the nicest thought imaginable.

Ultimate Challenge

They are talking through their hoods, but Ku Klux Klan spokesmen are claiming a spurt in membership as a result of the House un-American Activities Committee's investigation.

They may be mindful of an adage that runs through show business — and who wants to deny that KKK is show business?

The adage: It doesn't matter what you say about me, just spell my name right.

The ultimate challenge to popular government in the United States always has been development of enough discrimination in the popular mind to eliminate movements that might destroy democracy.

This is why universal education has been a requirement of the American system of government. Illiteracy breeds ignorance.

Whenever a movement inimical to the welfare of the American people seeks support, the question is whether people have developed enough immunity to withstand it. This has been the question posed by movements like the Klan.

There has been no evidence in recent years that it appealed to more than a handful. There is no reason to believe it will catch fire, the way it did in the '20s. There is no cause to wonder if it could become as dangerous in the North as it is in the South.

But it does have to be taken into account that it appeals to a certain kind of frustrated human being and that publicity may help it recruit more support than it could command otherwise.

Small Game?

About that $400,000 Brinks robbery in Syracuse, N. Y., where an anti-tank gun was used to blow open a vault, an interesting account of the gun, itself, has come to light.

This was no Italian military rifle like the one Lee Harvey Oswald bought by mail to assassinate President Kennedy.

Nor was it something a sportsman might pick up in a sporting goods store for the ostensible purpose of killing small game.

It was no revolver that a woman might carry in a purse for self-protection, or that a man might want to have handy if a burglar or a prowler broke into the house.

This was a seven-foot-long chunk of military hardware. It and another one like it were bought over the counter in a second-hand gun shop in Alexandria, Va., last spring. It is the proprietor's credit that he checked out the name and address of the purchaser, found them false and notified the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

It was not his fault that the purchaser caused the gun to be expressed to a destination, where it ended up in criminal hands, because there was a Mack Sennett police farce.

It wasn't even the fault of the farcical policemen.

It was the fault of a knuckle-headed policy that lets weapons be sold will-nilly to anyone and everyone.

Can anyone seriously argue that buying seven-foot-long anti-tank guns over the counter is an inalienable right of U. S. citizenship?

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I suspect millions of U.S. voters share my astonishment at the things we are said to have voted for when we cast ballots for one of two candidates. What soothsayers read into the portents puts into the shade the old boys who once ruled the Roman empire by "reading" the entrails of slaughtered chickens.

Nothing makes me hotter under my bathrobe collar than to get soap in my eye while shaving. I regard it as evidence of a day that probably would better be spent in bed.

It tickles me the way Republican stalwarts who wouldn't touch John Lindsay with a 10-ft. pole when they thought he would lose now want to claim him as their very own — their hero, their elephant boy par excellence.

Of all the jobs I've heard about, being a royal consort appeals to me most. Those fellows who married the Windsor girls, Elizabeth and Margaret — man, do they have it made! And besides, both girls were good looking.

That fellow who immolated himself during time at the Pentagon queered his act by holding his 18-month-old daughter in his arms until the last minute. There's much to be admired in self-immolation but not in child sacrifice, which is evidence of mental derangement.

No sooner was I braced for 18-inch skirts than dollies took up the fad of wearing floor-length wraparounds called "grandma dresses." Ho hum. Maybe the grandmas will take up the 18-inch skirts, perish the thought.

I think do-gooders put the cart before the horse when they try to pull people out of poverty with education. People who want education and can be educated will get in in spite of hell and high water and if they don't go after it no one can force it on them.

It seems to me there is a special wallop in the fact no one has been arrested for burning Social Security cards, just draft cards.

I find no reason to change my mind about election returns. Polls should close at 6:30, everybody should go home, get a good night's rest and start tabulating the vote at 9 a.m. Wednesday norning, with no results to be announced until 9 a.m. Thursday morning — no more frantic, all-night compilations of unofficial returns, with everything being done the hard way.

The Mouse That Roared

The Boys Chip In For Jimmy

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK — The man who came to dinner here the other Friday did very well indeed for a one-night stand. Even for Jimmy Hoffa, $125,000 worth of adulation by labor leaders and employers is a good evening's income. That's what he netted for use in any fashion he wished.

Victor Riesel

Apparently it's all very legal. A bunch of the boys get together. They run a testimonial to their leader. Since each contribution, or surplus on each ticket above the cost of the roast beef, entertainment and printing, is under $3,000, the boys can bundle it up and give it to their admired one — tax free.

Apparently it does not matter if the sum is a hundred thousands dollars or a million so long as it comes in under $3,000 per adulation.

There were over 1,600 impressed admirers in the Hotel Americana grand ballroom — and apparently discretion got the better of their admiration.

They enveloped their magnanimity in anonymity. There were no seating lists in evidence — a word heavy on the minds of those who were not ecstatic over being in the crowd, each of whom paid $100 out of his own pocket to cheer their twice-convicted hero.

AS THE DEVOTEES arrived, a Hoffa adjutant told them where to sit. Since the adulators had come to be observed, at least by the star of the evening, they demurred over the possibility that "Jimmy" would not know they were there.

But they were told not to worry. The "little guy" had a list of his own. He would know. And so they made merry in an apprehensive sort of way.

They all knew they were under surveillance by several law agencies — especially the FBI. J. Edgar Hoover's bureau now has a dragnet out over the entire infra-structure of operations of Hoffa and his allies.

The testimonial dinner funds are being raised to defray Hoffa's legal expenses as everybody knows. But few know, and the FBI on orders from the Justice Department wants to know, just what are these expenses.

Obviously Hoffa has spent scores of thousands of dollars investigating some 50 jurors and alternates in the course of three recent federal trials.

Obviously considerable money has been spent in an effort to find the Chattanooga prostitutes, call girls, hotel employes and nightclub workers. These are the men and women who have charged in affidavits that the jurors in the jury-tampering trial had wild parties and sexual relations during the trial early in 1964.

They also charged U.S. marshals with obtaining women for the jurors. The marshals and the Justice Department have denied the libidinous charges. The denials are in affidavit form. Therefore, one group or the other have perjured themselves. For this the penalties are severe.

Thus Hoffa, in seeking to set aside the eight-year prison term, has unloosed a new series of probes. If his charges are accurate, scores of federal officials, including a respected federal judge, have sworn falsely. If the latter are telling the truth, the prostitutes and the men who convinced them to swear in affidavit form face prison. Take your choice.

The FBI has been methodically tracking down the evidence and it is now the words of harlots against the government.

Since Hoffa has presented the call girl affidavits as evidence in his appeals, it is likely he will be on the witness stand again.

Thus once more he will be increasing his legal fees. How will he pay them? It is now apparent that he owes the Teamsters' union a minimum of $570,000 which it advanced to him for counsel and appeals fees in just three court cases.

THIS IS THE FIGURE which the Teamsters' treasurer has admitted to the Secretary of Labor Wirtz. But entirely overlooked in the Labor Department's recent report on the mater is a statement that the Labor Department itself did not fully examine and trace all the records and payments to their final destination.

"The legal fees and expenses tabulated . . . as disbursements from IBT (Teamsters—VR) funds in connection with the litigation involving Mr. Hoffa," says the official Labor Department report, "are the results of compilations by the IBT and NOT by the LMWP (Labor-Management and Welfare-Pension compliance bureau —VR).

"The LMWP has not attempted to confirm the expenditures through inquiry of numerous recipients of the IBT funds nor has it attempted to determine the correctness of the IBT compilations of legal fees and expenses . . .

"In other words, it is possible that some of the disbursements charged to these accounts were incorrectly so charged, and it is possible that there were other disbursements which should have been charged to these accounts and were not so charged. The accounting decisions represent those of the IBT and do not represent the judgements of the LMWP staff as to the propriety of charging disbursements to those accounts."

In other words, the Labor Department merely wanted to show that large sums have been spent by the Teamsters for Hoffa.

How much was really spent? How much does Hoffa really owe? How many $100-a-plate dinners will still be needed?

Election Delusions

By David Lawrence

Republican Needs Analyzed

Judging by some of the comments one reads about the victory of John Lindsay in his election as mayor of New York City, it might seem as if Barry Goldwater had been presiding over the affairs of the metropolis for the last four years and now has been dramatically repudiated.

David Lawrence

It's equally illusory to say that the Republican party has a good chance of reuniting just because someone who ran on a fusion ticket in a city election and played down the fact that he was also the Republican nominee turned out to be the winner, though he was actually the choice of a 46 per cent minority of the voters. Indeed, the majority — about 54 per cent — didn't vote for Lindsay.

The acclaim accorded the victor as a possible gubernatorial or presidential nominee of the Republican party in the future — though he hasn't uttered a word of apology for his desertion of the party's presidential candidate in 1964 — is not likely to be ignored. Factional feelings have by no means been erased.

Nor will the practical question — how to reconcile the blocs in the Republican party — be answered merely by claiming that conservative doctrines are no longer valid because of Lindsay's victory in New York, even though his voting record in Congress was 84 per cent approved by the radical organization known as Americans for Democratic Action.

THE DISSENSION goes deeper, and the sooner it is objectively examined, the quicker will the problem be solved.

First of all, it's necessary to study the underlying resentments. Barry Goldwater was denounced from one end of the country to the other in 1964 as a right-wing extremist. He was characterized as being trigger happy. Such characterizations came first from fellow Republicans of prominence and then from Democrats.

Sen. Goldwater favored a firm stand in Viet Nam as against any appearance of a wavering policy that could be misinterpreted by the enemy as weakness and thus drag the American people into a major war by reason of the Communists' miscalculation.

The Republican nominee urged that American forces bomb North Viet Nam's supply lines. His advice — scorned during the campaign last year — was accepted soon after the election of President Johnson.

The war in Viet Nam is today much bigger than it was last year. A vigorous prosecution of the fighting against the Communists has since become a national policy. Barry Goldwater's position has been fully vindicated.

THE FALSE STATEMENT was made, too, that Goldwater wanted to tear up Social Security cards, though he called primarily for improvements in the system. The Johnson administration now has increased Social Security taxes. The previous formula has been torn open and supplemented by one that makes deeper inroads into the weekly pay envelope of the wage earner. It includes a tax for medicare, which covers a field that might better have been left to general revenues. Many Republican leaders feel that way about it today.

What does all this mean? Is there such a vast diffrence between the policies advocated by Goldwater in 1964 and what the leading Republicans in Congress are saying now as they support the administration's expansion of the war in Viet Nam? They are expressing, moreover, the same concern about the administration's fiscal policies as the Republican presidential candidate did a year ago.

Nothing is to be gained by endeavoring to excoriate Barry Goldwater for his conscientious belief that the war in Viet Nam should be fought vigorously or for his convictions that civil rights will never be assured unless constitutional methods are used to attain desirable objectives.

THE REPUBLICAN party is not going to win just by finding a glamorous personality to run in 1968. It's what he stands for that will count. For the party will be confronted with the necessity of recognizing the discontent of the people over social and economic conditions and offering them a leadership which can care for their needs equitably and without bankrupting the government. This means, of course, burying factional feelings and subordinating personal prejudices to the good of a national political party as it strives to become an instrument of progress in the complex world of today.

Someone Did Something Right

President Johnson has signed a new agriculture bill and set up a National Advisory Commission Food and Fiber to report to him in 18 months.

It is unlikely a new presidential commission to study agriculture and recommend federal programs will come up with anything new.

The agriculture problem has been with mankind since Joseph set up the first ever-normal granary. And in the expected course of events it will still be plaguing the human race 10,000 years from now.

On this basis of reasoning, the farm problem is not an emergency. It is a fixture of human endeavor, one of the inevitable consequences of humanity's endless effort to survive.

To hear U.S. critics of farm policy talk about it, however, one might think this country's failures were monumental. The fact is any country on earth would jump at a chance to have the U.S. record to its credit.

Nowhere else have men been able to feed themselves to a point of satiety and have something left over.

Nowhere else have men been able to nourish themselves as well as they are nourished in the United States.

No other nation has a problem of what to do with food and fiber in excess of its own needs.

In a society that complains endlessly about producing more than it can use someone must have been doing a great many things right.

But this never will be admitted. It is ingrained in the nature of Americans to complain as bitterly about their successes as their failures and to double the bitterness if the successes and failures are in another sector of the economy.

Thus, U.S. businessmen can be counted on to carp about agriculture with zeal matched only by that of agriculturists carping about U.S. businessmen.

Food consumers say it costs too much to eat, and food producers say it costs too much to buy clothes, services, machinery and materials.

This is a happy hunting ground for politicians, who can play off the critics against one another, which is what they have been doing for centuries and will do for all time to come.

There can be no one-package, all-inclusive, universally satisfactory solution to the farm problem. Mankind has been looking for one since the first tick of time and so far has found nothing that can compare with what has happened in the United States, where a fifth of the population now produces more than enough food for everybody.

No other nation, no other civilization, ever did as well.

As to the latest agricultural law, it may be no better than any of its predecessors. If it's as good, there can be no extra-bitter complaints. Its backers insist it's better.

Sensible Action

Sensible was the action that led to the dismissal of the cases against 11 downtown East Liverpool merchants in the Sunday sales controversy.

As was brought out in court, matters had reached the ridiculous stage.

While the solution may be only temporary—as the judge cautioned — at least the air has been cleared and the need for a new approach on a statewide level re-emphasized.

Incidents similar to those here have been occurring from time to time throughout Ohio, pointing up the inadequacy of the present law and the need for complete revision. Ambiguity and confusion is the order of the day as things now stand.

The furore locally over the "blue laws" could serve a useful purpose if it helps tip the scales in favor of new, more understandable and sensible legislation.

That's The General Idea

Britain's Princess Margaret and her young husband are going to wonder every night when they pull down the shades and call it another day during their visit here about the fuss Americans make over second-line royalty. They aren't used to it at home.

We wonder about it ourselves.

It has something to do with human instinct. Americans have no royalty of their own to fuss over, so they find substitute satisfaction in fussing over political, theatrical and sports personages. When real royalty shows up, it's an occasion.

One time years ago — 1926 — Americans had a crack at a real queen, Marie of Romania, and made such a holy show while she traveled around this Republic that old-timers still blush at the recollection.

British royalty, of course, has an inside track, being in the family through marriage. And young British royalty has an inside track on a downhill slope, especially when it is personable with a sparkle of gaiety to waft away inhibitions that never repress the less than royal.

Gaiety will come out like a penned-up tiger while Princess Margaret and the Earl of Snowdon are with us. It's a harmless effusion.

We secretly wish we could have a princess of our own. Once upon a time, we had Princess Alice Roosevelt. Much later, we had a Princess Margaret of our own—Margaret Truman. Currently we have two princesses, Lynda and Luci.

People have to have something nice to think about from time to time. For most of us, being royalty and having everybody think about you is the nicest thought imaginable.

Ultimate Challenge

They are talking through their hoods, but Ku Klux Klan spokesmen are claiming a spurt in membership as a result of the House un-American Activities Committee's investigation.

They may be mindful of an adage that runs through show business — and who wants to deny that KKK is show business?

The adage: It doesn't matter what you say about me, just spell my name right.

The ultimate challenge to popular government in the United States always has been development of enough discrimination in the popular mind to eliminate movements that might destroy democracy.

This is why universal education has been a requirement of the American system of government. Illiteracy breeds ignorance.

Whenever a movement inimical to the welfare of the American people seeks support, the question is whether people have developed enough immunity to withstand it. This has been the question posed by movements like the Klan.

There has been no evidence in recent years that it appealed to more than a handful. There is no reason to believe it will catch fire, the way it did in the '20s. There is no cause to wonder if it could become as dangerous in the North as it is in the South.

But it does have to be taken into account that it appeals to a certain kind of frustrated human being and that publicity may help it recruit more support than it could command otherwise.

Small Game?

About that $400,000 Brinks robbery in Syracuse, N. Y., where an anti-tank gun was used to blow open a vault, an interesting account of the gun, itself, has come to light.

This was no Italian military rifle like the one Lee Harvey Oswald bought by mail to assassinate President Kennedy.

Nor was it something a sportsman might pick up in a sporting goods store for the ostensible purpose of killing small game.

It was no revolver that a woman might carry in a purse for self-protection, or that a man might want to have handy if a burglar or a prowler broke into the house.

This was a seven-foot-long chunk of military hardware. It and another one like it were bought over the counter in a second-hand gun shop in Alexandria, Va., last spring. It is the proprietor's credit that he checked out the name and address of the purchaser, found them false and notified the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

It was not his fault that the purchaser caused the gun to be expressed to a destination, where it ended up in criminal hands, because there was a Mack Sennett police farce.

It wasn't even the fault of the farcical policemen.

It was the fault of a knuckle-headed policy that lets weapons be sold will-nilly to anyone and everyone.

Can anyone seriously argue that buying seven-foot-long anti-tank guns over the counter is an inalienable right of U. S. citizenship?

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I suspect millions of U.S. voters share my astonishment at the things we are said to have voted for when we cast ballots for one of two candidates. What soothsayers read into the portents puts into the shade the old boys who once ruled the Roman empire by "reading" the entrails of slaughtered chickens.

Nothing makes me hotter under my bathrobe collar than to get soap in my eye while shaving. I regard it as evidence of a day that probably would better be spent in bed.

It tickles me the way Republican stalwarts who wouldn't touch John Lindsay with a 10-ft. pole when they thought he would lose now want to claim him as their very own — their hero, their elephant boy par excellence.

Of all the jobs I've heard about, being a royal consort appeals to me most. Those fellows who married the Windsor girls, Elizabeth and Margaret — man, do they have it made! And besides, both girls were good looking.

That fellow who immolated himself during time at the Pentagon queered his act by holding his 18-month-old daughter in his arms until the last minute. There's much to be admired in self-immolation but not in child sacrifice, which is evidence of mental derangement.

No sooner was I braced for 18-inch skirts than dollies took up the fad of wearing floor-length wraparounds called "grandma dresses." Ho hum. Maybe the grandmas will take up the 18-inch skirts, perish the thought.

I think do-gooders put the cart before the horse when they try to pull people out of poverty with education. People who want education and can be educated will get in in spite of hell and high water and if they don't go after it no one can force it on them.

It seems to me there is a special wallop in the fact no one has been arrested for burning Social Security cards, just draft cards.

I find no reason to change my mind about election returns. Polls should close at 6:30, everybody should go home, get a good night's rest and start tabulating the vote at 9 a.m. Wednesday norning, with no results to be announced until 9 a.m. Thursday morning — no more frantic, all-night compilations of unofficial returns, with everything being done the hard way.

The Mouse That Roared

The Boys Chip In For Jimmy

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK — The man who came to dinner here the other Friday did very well indeed for a one-night stand. Even for Jimmy Hoffa, $125,000 worth of adulation by labor leaders and employers is a good evening's income. That's what he netted for use in any fashion he wished.

Victor Riesel

Apparently it's all very legal. A bunch of the boys get together. They run a testimonial to their leader. Since each contribution, or surplus on each ticket above the cost of the roast beef, entertainment and printing, is under $3,000, the boys can bundle it up and give it to their admired one — tax free.

Apparently it does not matter if the sum is a hundred thousands dollars or a million so long as it comes in under $3,000 per adulation.

There were over 1,600 impressed admirers in the Hotel Americana grand ballroom — and apparently discretion got the better of their admiration.

They enveloped their magnanimity in anonymity. There were no seating lists in evidence — a word heavy on the minds of those who were not ecstatic over being in the crowd, each of whom paid $100 out of his own pocket to cheer their twice-convicted hero.

AS THE DEVOTEES arrived, a Hoffa adjutant told them where to sit. Since the adulators had come to be observed, at least by the star of the evening, they demurred over the possibility that "Jimmy" would not know they were there.

But they were told not to worry. The "little guy" had a list of his own. He would know. And so they made merry in an apprehensive sort of way.

They all knew they were under surveillance by several law agencies — especially the FBI. J. Edgar Hoover's bureau now has a dragnet out over the entire infra-structure of operations of Hoffa and his allies.

The testimonial dinner funds are being raised to defray Hoffa's legal expenses as everybody knows. But few know, and the FBI on orders from the Justice Department wants to know, just what are these expenses.

Obviously Hoffa has spent scores of thousands of dollars investigating some 50 jurors and alternates in the course of three recent federal trials.

Obviously considerable money has been spent in an effort to find the Chattanooga prostitutes, call girls, hotel employes and nightclub workers. These are the men and women who have charged in affidavits that the jurors in the jury-tampering trial had wild parties and sexual relations during the trial early in 1964.

They also charged U.S. marshals with obtaining women for the jurors. The marshals and the Justice Department have denied the libidinous charges. The denials are in affidavit form. Therefore, one group or the other have perjured themselves. For this the penalties are severe.

Thus Hoffa, in seeking to set aside the eight-year prison term, has unloosed a new series of probes. If his charges are accurate, scores of federal officials, including a respected federal judge, have sworn falsely. If the latter are telling the truth, the prostitutes and the men who convinced them to swear in affidavit form face prison. Take your choice.

The FBI has been methodically tracking down the evidence and it is now the words of harlots against the government.

Since Hoffa has presented the call girl affidavits as evidence in his appeals, it is likely he will be on the witness stand again.

Thus once more he will be increasing his legal fees. How will he pay them? It is now apparent that he owes the Teamsters' union a minimum of $570,000 which it advanced to him for counsel and appeals fees in just three court cases.

The accounting decisions represent those of the IBT and do not represent the judgements of the LMWP staff as to the propriety of charging disbursements to those accounts."

In other words, the Labor Department merely wanted to show that large sums have been spent by the Teamsters for Hoffa.

How much was really spent? How much does Hoffa really owe? How many $100-a-plate dinners will still be needed?

Couple Dies In Crash On Warren Area Road

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Elmer E. Joseph, 79, and his wife, Elizabeth, 68, of Vienna were killed in a two-car crash on old Ohio 82, about five miles east of here, Friday.

The highway patrol said Joseph's car was turning off Ohio 82 into the driveway of his son's home when it was struck by an auto driven by Robert Mack, 19, of Vienna. Mack was treated at a hospital in Warren.

Barbecue Set For Princess In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Britain's Princess Margaret, a tourist's tour of San Francisco completed, plunges into the official side of her United States trip today.

She is visiting the University of California's nearby Berkeley campus and then tastes her first Western-style barbecue.

The meat will be sliced from a 50-pound wild boar on the Monterey Peninsula, 135 miles south of San Francisco.

The princess, accompanied by her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, made it clear Friday that much of her tour is strictly pleasure.

She smilingly overrode security misgivings and boarded a San Francisco cable car for an eight-block ride up steep Russian Hill.

Although she appeared delighted with the trip, she froze momentarily when photographers crowded around the open cable car, held back by only a wall of security men. The high benches in the open end of the cars face the sidewalk and there is no protection from the elements save the roof.

Such seats are favored by women with pretty knees.

Regular passengers aboard the cable car obviously were delighted with getting such a close view of the princess and her husband.

"She looks awful small, but awfully pretty," said one middle-aged woman passenger. The princess is 5 feet, 1 inch tall.

Accompanied by several members of the royal party, the Snowdons went for a cruise in San Francisco Bay on the 55-foot yacht of hotel man Dan London.

Later, the princess donned a green chiffon short evening dress and a full-length mink coat to attend a reception given by British Minister Michael Stewart of the British Embassy in Washington D.C. at the San Francisco consul general's residence.

Vehicles Ram; 4 Are Injured

Four were injured in a collision between a pickup truck and a car Friday at 3:40 p.m. on Route 45, four and four - tenths miles north of Lisbon, according to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

The crash involved a car operated by Cleo Dille, 53, of Cream Ridge Rd., Lisbon R.D., and the truck operated by Clarence R. Schisler, 65, of Leetonia R.D. 1.

Officers said Schisler was in the process of making a left turn and was hit by Dille, who had started to pass. The truck overturned.

Dille was cut on the nose and Schisler had lacerations of the head. Bessie Criss, 21, of Leetonia R.D. 1 and Dave Criss, 35, of the same address, passengers in the truck, also were hurt. The woman had abrasions and contusions of the left hip, left ankle and hand. Criss had injuries, lacerations of the head and scalp and left shoulder.

All were taken to Salem Central Clinic.

Richard Watt, 45, of 277 W. North Ave., East Palestine, was cited for driving while under the influence of alcohol after he drove his car into a field along Route 170, a mile south of Route 14, Friday at 11:35 p.m.

Watt's car damaged a fence and wooden posts at the home of Paul Powers of N. Market St., East Palestine.

Watt swerved to avoid hitting a car partially parked on the roadway. The car was operated by Paul L. Murphy, 35, of Wampum, Pa.

Murphy was cited for parking on the roadway. Officers said there was no contact between the two vehicles.

Samuel Fulton, 64, of Washington, Pa., and Robert Kelly, 42, of Lisbon R.D. 3 reported to the post their cars were involved in a slight collision at 4:30 p.m. at the intersection of Routes 170 and 30 near Calcutta. Fulton said he pulled from a stop sign onto Route 30 and was bumped by Kelly.

Court Income Falls By $696

Municipal Court revenue hit $3,343 in October, down $696 from September's $4,039, it was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The city's share of the revenue totaled $2,722, off $574 from the $3,296 it was paid out of September receipts.

An $862 decline in fines, costs and forfeitures in October criminal cases accounted for the drop in overall revenue. The criminal receipts hit $2,260 last month, against $3,122 in September.

In addition to the criminal receipts, the amount turned over to the city was comprised of $307 in costs from civil cases and $154 in penalties from State Highway Patrol cases.

The court also disbursed $154 to the state treasury, $380 to the county treasury and $86.50 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled by the court last month was $8,637, off just $97 from the total of $8,734 handled in the preceding month. The funds handled last month included $4,052 in the civil branch and $4,584 in the criminal branch.

A breakdown of cases showed: 39 civil cases filed in October, 20 disposed of and 206 left pending; 58 city criminal cases filed, 43 disposed of and 123 left pending, and 58 state criminal cases filed, 51 disposed of and 164 left pending.

Couple Dies In Crash On Warren Area Road

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Elmer E. Joseph, 79, and his wife, Elizabeth, 68, of Vienna were killed in a two-car crash on old Ohio 82, about five miles east of here, Friday.

The highway patrol said Joseph's car was turning off Ohio 82 into the driveway of his son's home when it was struck by an auto driven by Robert Mack, 19, of Vienna. Mack was treated at a hospital in Warren.

Barbecue Set For Princess In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Britain's Princess Margaret, a tourist's tour of San Francisco completed, plunges into the official side of her United States trip today.

She is visiting the University of California's nearby Berkeley campus and then tastes her first Western-style barbecue.

The meat will be sliced from a 50-pound wild boar on the Monterey Peninsula, 135 miles south of San Francisco.

The princess, accompanied by her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, made it clear Friday that much of her tour is strictly pleasure.

She smilingly overrode security misgivings and boarded a San Francisco cable car for an eight-block ride up steep Russian Hill.

Although she appeared delighted with the trip, she froze momentarily when photographers crowded around the open cable car, held back by only a wall of security men. The high benches in the open end of the cars face the sidewalk and there is no protection from the elements save the roof.

Such seats are favored by women with pretty knees.

Regular passengers aboard the cable car obviously were delighted with getting such a close view of the princess and her husband.

"She looks awful small, but awfully pretty," said one middle-aged woman passenger. The princess is 5 feet, 1 inch tall.

Accompanied by several members of the royal party, the Snowdons went for a cruise in San Francisco Bay on the 55-foot yacht of hotel man Dan London.

Later, the princess donned a green chiffon short evening dress and a full-length mink coat to attend a reception given by British Minister Michael Stewart of the British Embassy in Washington D.C. at the San Francisco consul general's residence.

Vehicles Ram; 4 Are Injured

Four were injured in a collision between a pickup truck and a car Friday at 3:40 p.m. on Route 45, four and four - tenths miles north of Lisbon, according to the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

The crash involved a car operated by Cleo Dille, 53, of Cream Ridge Rd., Lisbon R.D., and the truck operated by Clarence R. Schisler, 65, of Leetonia R.D. 1.

Officers said Schisler was in the process of making a left turn and was hit by Dille, who had started to pass. The truck overturned.

Dille was cut on the nose and Schisler had lacerations of the head. Bessie Criss, 21, of Leetonia R.D. 1 and Dave Criss, 35, of the same address, passengers in the truck, also were hurt. The woman had abrasions and contusions of the left hip, left ankle and hand. Criss had injuries, lacerations of the head and scalp and left shoulder.

All were taken to Salem Central Clinic.

Richard Watt, 45, of 277 W. North Ave., East Palestine, was cited for driving while under the influence of alcohol after he drove his car into a field along Route 170, a mile south of Route 14, Friday at 11:35 p.m.

Watt's car damaged a fence and wooden posts at the home of Paul Powers of N. Market St., East Palestine.

Watt swerved to avoid hitting a car partially parked on the roadway. The car was operated by Paul L. Murphy, 35, of Wampum, Pa.

Murphy was cited for parking on the roadway. Officers said there was no contact between the two vehicles.

Samuel Fulton, 64, of Washington, Pa., and Robert Kelly, 42, of Lisbon R.D. 3 reported to the post their cars were involved in a slight collision at 4:30 p.m. at the intersection of Routes 170 and 30 near Calcutta. Fulton said he pulled from a stop sign onto Route 30 and was bumped by Kelly.

Court Income Falls By $696

Municipal Court revenue hit $3,343 in October, down $696 from September's $4,039, it was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon.

The city's share of the revenue totaled $2,722, off $574 from the $3,296 it was paid out of September receipts.

An $862 decline in fines, costs and forfeitures in October criminal cases accounted for the drop in overall revenue. The criminal receipts hit $2,260 last month, against $3,122 in September.

In addition to the criminal receipts, the amount turned over to the city was comprised of $307 in costs from civil cases and $154 in penalties from State Highway Patrol cases.

The court also disbursed $154 to the state treasury, $380 to the county treasury and $86.50 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled by the court last month was $8,637, off just $97 from the total of $8,734 handled in the preceding month. The funds handled last month included $4,052 in the civil branch and $4,584 in the criminal branch.

A breakdown of cases showed: 39 civil cases filed in October, 20 disposed of and 206 left pending; 58 city criminal cases filed, 43 disposed of and 123 left pending, and 58 state criminal cases filed, 51 disposed of and 164 left pending.

Wellsville Man Analyzes Game To Aid Noted Champions And Amateur Players

By HARRY STEWART

Checkers can be a pleasant game for casual play on a winter's evening.

Or it can be a complex, tension- filled competition between champions, almost as demanding of memory, logic and skill as chess.

Although 70-year-old Edward Warren Urie of Wellsville has never held a checker championship himself, his knowledge and analysis of the game has aided many who have held state and national titles.

A checker enthusiast for 45 years, Urie of 512 Broadway, a retired railroad employe, is a noted critic, having had numerous articles, problems and solutions published in national and international magazines.

He spends many hours studying the results of games between experts working out moves that could have changed losses into wins or draws.

Urie then writes to the champions, pointing out their mistakes and offering suggestions on other moves and strategy. He has received many letters from the champions in the United States, Canada, England and Scotland, thanking him for his help. He also has been visited personally at his home by several champions who want to discuss the methods he uses.

ONE OF HIS MOST noted accomplishments was designing the "Buckeye Baffler" checker problem. He says it is one that requires an expert to solve.

It was first published as a prize problem in the "American Checkerist" magazine by the late William F. Ryan, who was then the American champion and editor and owner of the magazine. Later it was published in many other magazines and newspaper checker columns in the United States and foreign countries.

Urie's interest in checkers began in 1920 when he was seeking something to do to pass the long evenings. He played his first game with his brother-in-law, William Glover, now of California. He participated in his first checker tourney at the East Liverpool YMCA.

His interest grew and he says he really became enthused when he came across a book showing the many variations of the game. He then learned the principles from the late Charles Price of East Liverpool, a native of England and a nationally recognized analyst.

Down through the years he has developed his knowledge of the game, which can be traced back to the ancient pyramid builders in Egypt.

He has put together a library of books on checkers or "draughts," the name of the game in England.

HE HAS MASTERED many techniques and variations. He spends his time as an analyst and critic making improvements, correcting problems and contributing to checker magazines and papers.

A retired Pennsylvania Railroad telegrapher, he constantly strives to figure out new problems and the solutions. He never is satisfied until each problem can be figured to make it possible to win or draw instead of lose.

He travels to national checker conventions and matches. He has met and played some of the best in the world. In a simultaneous exhibition play in 1946 in New York with Millard Hooper, the unrestricted world champion, Urie scored a win.

Several years ago at Freedom, Pa., he won a game from Tom Wiswell, who is the present unrestricted champion. In an unrestricted, or "go - as - you - please" game, any legal move is allowed.

Another game is a three-move match in which the first three moves on the board are determined by cards drawn. There also are two move matches. After the designated moves have been made, the players then can move as they please.

In the checker world, there also is an 11-man match—in which each player draws a card to determine which checker shall be removed from his side of the board—and blindfold matches in which no board is used. Each player memorizes the board and as each square is known by number, develops moves and tells them to his opponent. Newell W. Banks of Detroit, whom Urie has played, is the present 11-man match and blindfold champ.

URIE SAYS HE doesn't have the stamina to play in a 40-game match and win, but that he can hold his own in a game or two with the experts.

He has played draw games with the late William S. Ryan and Banks.

Banks also is a world champion exhibition chess player.

Urie served at one time as a member of an Ohio checker team that played a Michigan team. He also served on another Ohio team that played against teams from all the other states.

He has participated in games by correspondence.

Although most of his time is spent developing basic moves, Urie also has corrected trick game moves. He says trick plays are seldom used against experts because they recognize them immediately.

He has a special rubber stamp of a checker board which he uses to diagram problems and work out solutions. The squares on boards are numbered and the numbers beneath a problem indicate the moves necessary to win.

ALTHOUGH HE HAS conferred with experts, Urie is very interested in improving the play of amateurs.

This district has produced many good players, including Guy Garwood of East Liverpool, who was Ohio champion several times, winning the title last in 1934.

Urie has an amazing memory for recalling plays exactly as they happened. He can detail how certain games he played with champions ended, where the pieces were located and what moves were made.

He knows the names of hundreds of moves and has memorized several hundred variations of each.

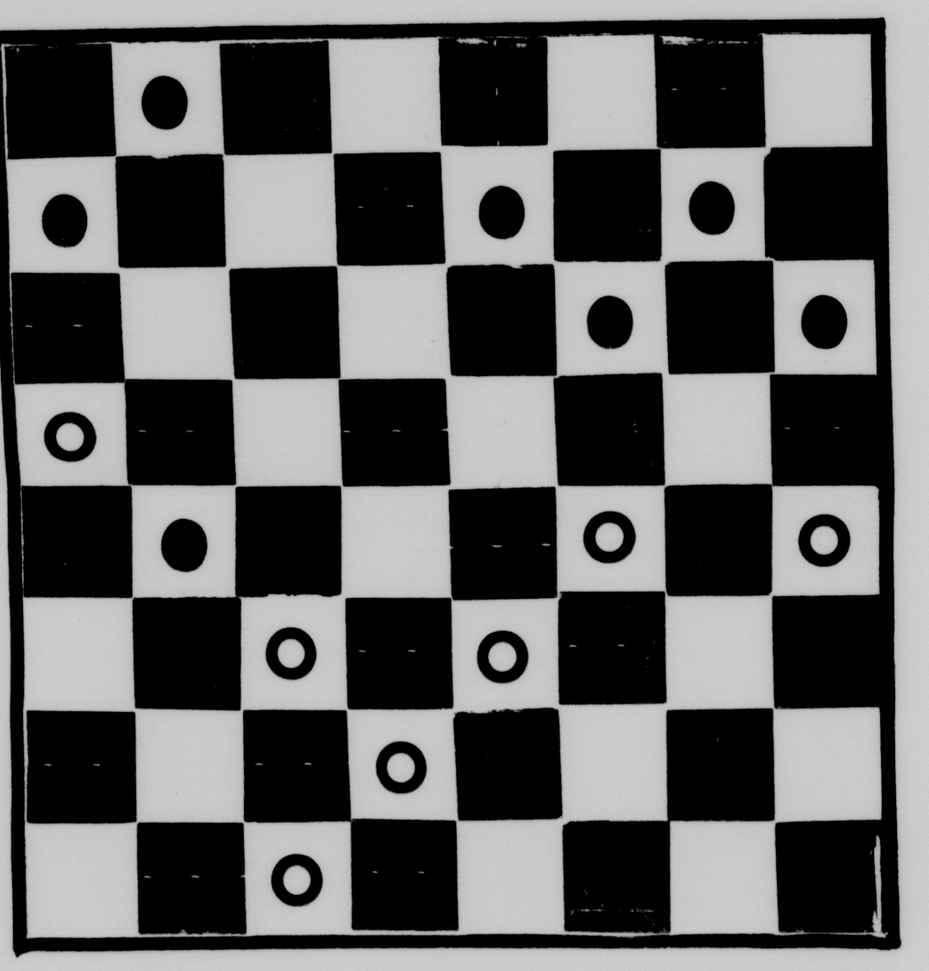

He enjoys playing with anyone interested, quickly pointing out to them the different moves they can make, correcting their mistakes and showing them how they could have bettered the game.

He says he would like to see the YMCA or some other organization set up regular checker classes and conduct tournaments.

The complex challenge of a checker problem calls for deep concentration by Urie, a student of the game for over 45 years. His acute memory enables him to recall plays of past games, hundreds of moves and their varieties.

Falls rank second only to motor vehicle accidents as the major cause of accidental deaths, according to the area Red Cross.

They are the leading cause of accidental deaths in the home. Persons over 65 account for 74 per cent of the total number of deaths from falls.

Falls are caused by loss of balance on slippery surfaces, stumbling on uneven surfaces or objects, careless use of ladders and improper use of substitutes for ladders, and poorly lighted stairways and other walking areas.

Results of falls can range from merely painful bruises through more serious injuries such as wounds with severe bleeding and possible infection, fractures, concussion and other head injuries, to death.

Here are measures the Red Cross recommends for preventing these accidents:

1. Keep walking surfaces free of spilled foods and liquids.
2. Fasten such loose material as throw rugs to the floor or use a non - skid backing.
3. Repair or replace floor covering that causes uneven walking surfaces.
4. Use extra care on slippery surfaces.
5. Keep walking surfaces clear of foreign objects.
6. Use stepladders or step-stools of appropriate height and in good repair to extend your reach.
7. Provide for well lighted walking surfaces.
8. Provide guards at the top and bottom of stairways for young children.
9. Provide and use secure handholds in tubs and showers.
10. Walk carefully and slowly on slippery and uneven surfaces.
11. Don't carry objects that will block your vision.
12. Use footwear appropriate for the walking surface.

Tests nets were used in two area lakes last week and the results indicate a good increase in bass reproduction and in the growth of bluegills.

The nets were used three days in Ruff Pond along Route 172 about a quarter of a mile west of Zeppernick Lake in Columbiana County and in Jefferson Lake near Hammondsville in Jefferson County.

Both had been checked in the spring and fish management personnel, displeased with the fish population makeup, had the lakes drained after taking out all the desirable fish. The problem seemed to be an overpopulation of bluegills in both.

Large bass and catfish were saved and returned to the lakes after the water level was brought back to normal. The management men then stocked the lakes with all male bluegills.

Tests made last week show the bluegills have increased in size and the bass now are reproducing normally.

I WAS TOLD THAT nothing smaller than a 6½-inch bluegill showed up in the nets. The nets also turned up an average of 20 bass a day in each of the lakes. There was a fair number of 8 to 13½-inch largemouth bass, which indicate the bass are reproducing as they should.

Ruff Pond covers about five acres while Jefferson Lake has about 27 acres of water.

I was surprised to learn there are 8 to 10 pound catfish in Ruff Pond.

A square, box type net is used in testing the lake.

"Lead" lines extend out from the box to guide the fish into the trap where they are held until removed with a dip net, measured and returned to the water. The nets were removed after three days.

Just in case anyone wonders about it, I can't tell a male bluegill from a female, but biologists have a way.

Guilford Lake near Lisbon was stocked with 3,000 channel catfish last month. The average length was three inches. The fish were obtained from a federal fish hatchery.

THE WATER LEVEL of Guilford is being lowered to permit necessary repairs and improvements. Sewer pipe will be used to construct fish habitat on the bottom when the lowering is complete.

Deer season in Ohio opens Monday for three days and Ralph Drake, Columbiana County game protector, reminds hunters they are just allowed to hunt south of Route 39. The entire area in the county north of Route 39 is closed.

Ohio's rabbit season opens next Friday. Trapping season opens Nov. 15. Now would be a good time to check your traps and make sure they are in working order. Every trapper has his own special way of killing the scent on the traps. Some use dye, others wax them and some either hold them in a smoky fire or use commercial scents.

Don't forget to obtain the landowner's permission, and while running the trap line between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. carry a continuous white light visable for at least a quarter of a mile.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife said a tabulation of fur dealer reports shows the 1964-65 season produced the fewest pelts and the second lowest value of pelts in the past four seasons.

GEORGE HARRISON, EDITOR of the Pennsylvania Game News magazine, has resigned his position to become managing editor of National Wildlife magazine, published by the National Wildlife Federation. He is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. (Pete) Chandler, 239 Virginia Ave., Chester.

Harrison has been Game News editor for over four years and under his guidance the magazine nearly tripled in circulation to become the largest magazine of its kind in the country.

He will assume his new duties in December at Milwaukee, Wis., He and his wife, Hester, and son, Peter, 3, will move to the Milwaukee area in the near future.

PENNSYLVANIA HUNTERS will not be required to tag wild turkeys during the 1965 season although the legislature amended the game law to require the tagging.

The 1965 licenses were being printed when the legislation

was passed and it was not possible to provide the tags with this year's license. The turkey tag will be included with the 1966 licenses. Turkey season opened a week ago.

OHIO BOATERS ARE reminded that effective Nov. 9 every boat and outboard motor registration issued for the current year will continue in effect until March 1 of the next succeeding year in which it was issued. This is a result of legislation passed this summer by the Ohio General Assembly.

Although the expiration date of Jan. 1, 1966, is printed on all 1965 registrations, the date has been extended until midnight Feb. 28, 1966. Even though the expiration date has been extended, 1966 registrations may be used on and after Jan. 1.

THE FALL LEAF-COLOR show is in its last stages. Heavy rains and winds the past week have cleared most of the trees, but now is a good time to visit area parks and take to the hiking trails.

With the leaves gone, completely new scenes can be observed through the breaks in the trees. Many of these are not to be seen when the branches are heavily foliaged.

Search For History Launched In Beaver County's South Side

By JOHN COMO

The Mill Creek Valley Historical Association is a new organization in search of old information.

Old books, manuscripts, pictures, maps or anything which may help to connect the present with the past are wanted.

The goal of the association —just four months old — is to collect and preserve historical data of Southern Beaver County.

Historians have written little about the hardy settlers who first blazed the frontier of that part of Beaver County.

The Mill Creek Association plans to give this area and its people a rightful place in history.

FEW PARTS of the U.S. have more stories of the past to uncover. Settlers in the area were isolated and under constant attack by roving bands of Indians, who were separated from the Six Nations during the Revolutionary War. Few records were kept and even grave markers have lost identity over the years.

In searching out this history a three - way approach will be used by the association. It will try to locate and to promote the saving of old books, records, manuscripts and pictures.

Research will be carried on for the recovery of articles concerning churches, schools, farms, industries, businesses and family histories. The third step will be to discover and preserve historical landmarks.

The ultimate goal of the association is creation of a history museum in which all of the data discovered will be coordinated and preserved.

TWO INCIDENTS led to formation of the Association.

First, there was the discussion of dedicating a Revolutionary War memorial at Hookstown in honor of an ancester of Mrs. Claire McElhaney.

Then Mrs. Marshall Hoover of Hookstown, now president of the association, suggested the possible construction of a replica of the first Mill Creek Presbyterian Church.

The first church, which had no doors or windows and was entered by way of an underground passage, is said to have been the first church in Beaver County.

It was built in 1764, and remains unique in that there is no record of any other church of its kind in the nation.

As the interest in the history of Mlil Creek and its surrounding valleys spread, the group enlarged and started regular meetings.

Appointed to office were Mrs. Hoover, president; Frank Kelsey, vice - president; Mrs. Daniel W. Wilson, secretary and Miss Mary Thompson, treasurer. Other members of the organizing committee are Roy Snyder, Norman Littell, Don Morgan, A. D. Dugan, Elbert McDowell and Mrs. Duane Montgomery.

Fifteen directors were also appointed at the meeting. They are Snyder, Littell, Kelsey, Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Wilson, McDowell, Dugan, Morgan, Mrs. Claire McElhaney, Glen Standley, Miss Eulalie Whitehill, Mrs. Duane Montgomery, Mrs. Guy Shane, Rev. Alexander Wilson, Clifford Smith and Miss Mary Thompson.

A PERSON NEEDS only one requirement to join the Association — an interest in history.

The association will welcome all who may help in the quest of discovery. Activity in the association will depend on the individual member and his desire to promote the interest of history.

Interested persons may apply for membership in the association by contacting Clifford Smith, 10 Crest Drive, Harper Village, Pa., or Mrs. Daniel W. Wilson of Aliquippa R.D. 1.

Two projects are set for the immediate future. These are the construction of a replica of the first church building and the restoration of old cemeteries in the area. The church will be reconstructed near the original site at the Mill Creek Cemetery.

Response to the appeal by the Association has been encouraging. As the association grows it hopes to relate the present with the past, providing encouragement and inspiration to today's people which comes from an accurate knowledge of the past.

You And The Law

A special form of insurance exists to protect employes when they suffer injuries at work, provided there is some connection between the work and the injury. This special insurance is known as workmen's compensation. And it also extends to diseases that are peculiar to the employe's occupation.

In Ohio, every employer of three or more persons is required to carry workmen's compensation. There are no exceptions and the employer must count part - time help as well as full-time in determining whether or not he has three employes.

ALL COVERED employers contribute to a fund administered by the state. When an employe is injured while working in the course of employment, he is entitled to receive payments of money from the insurance fund during the period of time when he is off work due to the injury. He also is entitled to have his medical expenses paid by the state insurance fund.

The workmen's compensation law also provides death benefits to surviving dependents when an employe is killed while performing the duties of his employment.

It does not matter who was at fault in causing the accident. The injury might be the result of the employe's carelessness, but he is still entitled to the workmen's compensation benefits. The statutes specify the amount that is to be paid.

EMPLOYERS also benefit from this special insurance plan. They do not have to pay damages to an injured employe if they have complied with the law and paid their workmen's compensation insurance premiums.

An employe may not be repaid for all of his losses when he has a work injury, but he will receive the statuory allowance for every injury without regard to whose fault caused the accident. An employer may contribute to the fund and his employes may never have accidents, but in case there is an accident its responsibility is completely discharged.

Stamps In The News

The last stamp in the "Capital Cities" series of the Federal Republic of Germany (West Germany) has just been released, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The new stamp features Ludwigs Church in Saarbrucken. The color of the adhesive is blue, yellow, gray and black and the value is 20 pfennig.

This brings to a close a series of 11 stamps started in April 1964 which honor all of the state capitals and city - states which comprise the Federal Republic — Bremen, Dusseldorf, Hamburg, Hanover, Kiel, Mainz, Saar, Stuttgart, Wiesbaden and West Berlin. Each stamp is a 20 pfennig.

THE U.S. POST Office Department announced the dates and places of first-day issuance for five new regular stamps in the "Prominent Americans" series for 1966.

They are: 6-cent Franklin D. Roosevelt — Jan. 29 at Hyde Park, N. Y., the ancestral home and gravesite of the 32nd President; 5-cent George Washington — Feb. 22 at Washington, 8-cent Albert Einstein — March 14 at Princeton, N. J., where the physicist spent his last years; 2 - cent Frank Lloyd Wright — June 8 at Spring Green, Wis., near the farm where the architect conducted a workshop; $5 John Bassett Moore — Dec. 3 at Smyrna, Del., birthplace of the noted jurist.

In addition a sixth stamp— the 4-cent Abraham Lincoln coil stamp — will be issued May 28 in Springfield, Ill. This will be identical in design to the Lincoln stamp to be issued in pane form Nov. 19 this year.

The "Prominent Americans" series of 18 regular stamps, ranging in denominations from 1-cent to $5, replaces a series that dates back to 1954.

TUNISIA HAS issued a new stamp series called "Foyer des Etudiantes" (The Student Home) consisting of three stamps and two souvenir sheets. The stamps are 25, 40 and 50 milliemes and have a common design showing a school house and a girl reading a book.

The souvenir sheets at 200 milliemes contain the three stamps assembled inside the sketch of a schoolhouse. The Foyer des Etudiantes is a new national institution conceived by Madam Habib Bourguiba, wife of the President of Tunisia.

It provides homes for female students and is a part of a drive to speed up full emancipation of Tunisian women.

Who's Who In World Of Students

SUSAN EVANS

Music and painting are among the top interests of Susan Evans, Oak Glen High School senior.

Daughter of Hancock County Commissioner and Mrs. Jack Evans of 2nd Ave., New Cumberland, Susan is a member of the National Honor Society and Future Teachers of America, and has worked as school library assistant for three years.

She has attended a library workshop at West Virginia University for the past two summers and also attended Camp Horseshoe leadership camp.

Her musical interests include dancing to popular songs, listening to all kinds of music, playing accordion and singing alto with the school chorus and Choralettes.

Susan was a member of the cast of two plays last year and will be in a three - act comedy Nov. 12-13 at the school.

She also paints, splashes around in the swimming pool and likes to bowl. She plans to enroll at Fairmont State College and become a teacher of art and speech.

The Lighter Side

Mr. Ronald Reagan, that noted philospher and student of the democratic process, turned his profile to the best camera angle the other day and announced in his most forthright manner that he just might run for governor of California.

Thus another eminent would-be statesman prepared to take the leap from the faltering lotus land of Hollywood into another never-never land, big-time politics.

Mr. Reagan failed to mention his qualifications for governing the most populous state in the federal union, but perhaps he felt they are too obvious to need cataloging. After all, is he not a manly figure who has been cast in hundreds of hero roles in movie and television fantasies and able to turn a phrase with the best of them—provided someone else writes the script?

HE SEEKS TO TAKE his place in the limelight of government with that other paragon of statesmanship, Sen. George Murphy, Republican, of Beverly Hills.

After all, he must have reasoned, if a tired old song and dance man can make the U.S. Senate, certainly a younger, brighter type has a good chance at the governor's chair in Sacramento.

Pat Brown, the Democratic incumbent, never appeared in a commercial motion picture in his life. He holds no card in Actors Equity and he wouldn't know pancake makeup from a flapjack.

Sen. Murphy helped confirm the nation's judgment on the political maturity of his fellow Californians by winning over an old newspaperman named Pierre Salinger, who sought to prove that he was, too, a bona fide resident of California even though he just happened to have made his home in Washington, D. C., for a dozen years.

At least Salinger knew the difference between a queue and a quorum even though he didn't come through well on the close-ups.

BEFORE OTHER unemployed actors hop aboard this latest gravy train, we here in the East should remind our Western brethren of one unassailable fact:

If more and more Hollywood denizens decide to take seats in the hallowed halls of Congress, it will mean displacing men and women who have been sheltered under that dome for years.

If they can't find jobs in the diplomatic service or a federal bureau—traditional haven for a displaced bureaucrat— they're likely to turn to an allied field where they can use their talents—acting.

Certainly Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois could find a role on "Bonanza." And Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and other places would feel at home on the Perry Mason show.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio would be a natural as a permanent guest on "What's My Line?"

Sen. Hiram L. Fong and Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, representing the 50th state, could hurry off to roles on "Hawaiian Eye" of fragrant memory.

SEN. JOHN L. McCLELLAN of Arkansas might play the tough prosecutor in any number of courtroom dramas and Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota could essay the role of cowering witness or the benign judge.

If there's a brother act on tap, what better combination than Sen. Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia and Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia.

Perhaps a mutual embargo on export of politicians to the west and thespians to the east will halt this latest American madness before it's too late.

After, all some actor with wide national appeal might just take a shot at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. and then begin naming his friends to Cabinet posts and other jobs high in the executive branch.

With Cary Grant for President, who knows that he would not pick Edgar G. Robinson as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation?

Or Louella Parsons for press secretary!

Tests nets were used in two area lakes last week and the results indicate a good increase in bass reproduction and in the growth of bluegills.

The nets were used three days in Ruff Pond along Route 172 about a quarter of a mile west of Zeppernick Lake in Columbiana County and in Jefferson Lake near Hammondsville in Jefferson County.

Both had been checked in the spring and fish management personnel, displeased with the fish population makeup, had the lakes drained after taking out all the desirable fish. The problem seemed to be an overpopulation of bluegills in both.

Large bass and catfish were saved and returned to the lakes after the water level was brought back to normal. The management men then stocked the lakes with all male bluegills.

Tests made last week show the bluegills have increased in size and the bass now are reproducing normally.

I WAS TOLD THAT nothing smaller than a 6½-inch bluegill showed up in the nets. The nets also turned up an average of 20 bass a day in each of the lakes. There was a fair number of 8 to 13½-inch largemouth bass, which indicate the bass are reproducing as they should.

Ruff Pond covers about five acres while Jefferson Lake has about 27 acres of water.

I was surprised to learn there are 8 to 10 pound catfish in Ruff Pond.

A square, box type net is used in testing the lake.

"Lead" lines extend out from the box to guide the fish into the trap where they are held until removed with a dip net, measured and returned to the water. The nets were removed after three days.

Just in case anyone wonders about it, I can't tell a male bluegill from a female, but biologists have a way.

Guilford Lake near Lisbon was stocked with 3,000 channel catfish last month. The average length was three inches. The fish were obtained from a federal fish hatchery.

THE WATER LEVEL of Guilford is being lowered to permit necessary repairs and improvements. Sewer pipe will be used to construct fish habitat on the bottom when the lowering is complete.

Deer season in Ohio opens Monday for three days and Ralph Drake, Columbiana County game protector, reminds hunters they are just allowed to hunt south of Route 39. The entire area in the county north of Route 39 is closed.

Ohio's rabbit season opens next Friday. Trapping season opens Nov. 15. Now would be a good time to check your traps and make sure they are in working order. Every trapper has his own special way of killing the scent on the traps. Some use dye, others wax them and some either hold them in a smoky fire or use commercial scents.

Don't forget to obtain the landowner's permission, and while running the trap line between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. carry a continuous white light visable for at least a quarter of a mile.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife said a tabulation of fur dealer reports shows the 1964-65 season produced the fewest pelts and the second lowest value of pelts in the past four seasons.

GEORGE HARRISON, EDITOR of the Pennsylvania Game News magazine, has resigned his position to become managing editor of National Wildlife magazine, published by the National Wildlife Federation. He is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. (Pete) Chandler, 239 Virginia Ave., Chester.

Harrison has been Game News editor for over four years and under his guidance the magazine nearly tripled in circulation to become the largest magazine of its kind in the country.

He will assume his new duties in December at Milwaukee, Wis., He and his wife, Hester, and son, Peter, 3, will move to the Milwaukee area in the near future.

PENNSYLVANIA HUNTERS will not be required to tag wild turkeys during the 1965 season although the legislature amended the game law to require the tagging.

The 1965 licenses were being printed when the legislation

was passed and it was not possible to provide the tags with this year's license. The turkey tag will be included with the 1966 licenses. Turkey season opened a week ago.

OHIO BOATERS ARE reminded that effective Nov. 9 every boat and outboard motor registration issued for the current year will continue in effect until March 1 of the next succeeding year in which it was issued. This is a result of legislation passed this summer by the Ohio General Assembly.

Although the expiration date of Jan. 1, 1966, is printed on all 1965 registrations, the date has been extended until midnight Feb. 28, 1966. Even though the expiration date has been extended, 1966 registrations may be used on and after Jan. 1.

THE FALL LEAF-COLOR show is in its last stages. Heavy rains and winds the past week have cleared most of the trees, but now is a good time to visit area parks and take to the hiking trails.

With the leaves gone, completely new scenes can be observed through the breaks in the trees. Many of these are not to be seen when the branches are heavily foliaged.

Search For History Launched In Beaver County's South Side

By JOHN COMO

The Mill Creek Valley Historical Association is a new organization in search of old information.

Old books, manuscripts, pictures, maps or anything which may help to connect the present with the past are wanted.

The goal of the association —just four months old — is to collect and preserve historical data of Southern Beaver County.

Historians have written little about the hardy settlers who first blazed the frontier of that part of Beaver County.

The Mill Creek Association plans to give this area and its people a rightful place in history.

FEW PARTS of the U.S. have more stories of the past to uncover. Settlers in the area were isolated and under constant attack by roving bands of Indians, who were separated from the Six Nations during the Revolutionary War. Few records were kept and even grave markers have lost identity over the years.

In searching out this history a three - way approach will be used by the association. It will try to locate and to promote the saving of old books, records, manuscripts and pictures.

Research will be carried on for the recovery of articles concerning churches, schools, farms, industries, businesses and family histories. The third step will be to discover and preserve historical landmarks.

The ultimate goal of the association is creation of a history museum in which all of the data discovered will be coordinated and preserved.

TWO INCIDENTS led to formation of the Association.

First, there was the discussion of dedicating a Revolutionary War memorial at Hookstown in honor of an ancester of Mrs. Claire McElhaney.

Then Mrs. Marshall Hoover of Hookstown, now president of the association, suggested the possible construction of a replica of the first Mill Creek Presbyterian Church.

The first church, which had no doors or windows and was entered by way of an underground passage, is said to have been the first church in Beaver County.

It was built in 1764, and remains unique in that there is no record of any other church of its kind in the nation.

As the interest in the history of Mlil Creek and its surrounding valleys spread, the group enlarged and started regular meetings.

Appointed to office were Mrs. Hoover, president; Frank Kelsey, vice - president; Mrs. Daniel W. Wilson, secretary and Miss Mary Thompson, treasurer. Other members of the organizing committee are Roy Snyder, Norman Littell, Don Morgan, A. D. Dugan, Elbert McDowell and Mrs. Duane Montgomery.

Fifteen directors were also appointed at the meeting. They are Snyder, Littell, Kelsey, Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Wilson, McDowell, Dugan, Morgan, Mrs. Claire McElhaney, Glen Standley, Miss Eulalie Whitehill, Mrs. Duane Montgomery, Mrs. Guy Shane, Rev. Alexander Wilson, Clifford Smith and Miss Mary Thompson.

A PERSON NEEDS only one requirement to join the Association — an interest in history.

The association will welcome all who may help in the quest of discovery. Activity in the association will depend on the individual member and his desire to promote the interest of history.

Interested persons may apply for membership in the association by contacting Clifford Smith, 10 Crest Drive, Harper Village, Pa., or Mrs. Daniel W. Wilson of Aliquippa R.D. 1.

Two projects are set for the immediate future. These are the construction of a replica of the first church building and the restoration of old cemeteries in the area. The church will be reconstructed near the original site at the Mill Creek Cemetery.

Response to the appeal by the Association has been encouraging. As the association grows it hopes to relate the present with the past, providing encouragement and inspiration to today's people which comes from an accurate knowledge of the past.

You And The Law

A special form of insurance exists to protect employes when they suffer injuries at work, provided there is some connection between the work and the injury. This special insurance is known as workmen's compensation. And it also extends to diseases that are peculiar to the employe's occupation.

In Ohio, every employer of three or more persons is required to carry workmen's compensation. There are no exceptions and the employer must count part - time help as well as full-time in determining whether or not he has three employes.

ALL COVERED employers contribute to a fund administered by the state. When an employe is injured while working in the course of employment, he is entitled to receive payments of money from the insurance fund during the period of time when he is off work due to the injury. He also is entitled to have his medical expenses paid by the state insurance fund.

The workmen's compensation law also provides death benefits to surviving dependents when an employe is killed while performing the duties of his employment.

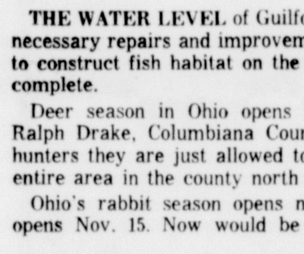

It does not matter who was at fault in causing the accident. The injury might be the result of the employe's carelessness, but he is still entitled to the workmen's compensation benefits. The statutes specify the amount that is to be paid.

EMPLOYERS also benefit from this special insurance plan. They do not have to pay damages to an injured employe if they have complied with the law and paid their workmen's compensation insurance premiums.

An employe may not be repaid for all of his losses when he has a work injury, but he will receive the statuory allowance for every injury without regard to whose fault caused the accident. An employer may contribute to the fund and his employes may never have accidents, but in case there is an accident its responsibility is completely discharged.

Stamps In The News

The last stamp in the "Capital Cities" series of the Federal Republic of Germany (West Germany) has just been released, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. The new stamp features Ludwigs Church in Saarbrucken. The color of the adhesive is blue, yellow, gray and black and the value is 20 pfennig.

This brings to a close a series of 11 stamps started in April 1964 which honor all of the state capitals and city - states which comprise the Federal Republic — Bremen, Dusseldorf, Hamburg, Hanover, Kiel, Mainz, Saar, Stuttgart, Wiesbaden and West Berlin. Each stamp is a 20 pfennig.

THE U.S. POST Office Department announced the dates and places of first-day issuance for five new regular stamps in the "Prominent Americans" series for 1966.

They are: 6-cent Franklin D. Roosevelt — Jan. 29 at Hyde Park, N. Y., the ancestral home and gravesite of the 32nd President; 5-cent George Washington — Feb. 22 at Washington, 8-cent Albert Einstein — March 14 at Princeton, N. J., where the physicist spent his last years; 2 - cent Frank Lloyd Wright — June 8 at Spring Green, Wis., near the farm where the architect conducted a workshop; $5 John Bassett Moore — Dec. 3 at Smyrna, Del., birthplace of the noted jurist.

In addition a sixth stamp—the 4-cent Abraham Lincoln coil stamp — will be issued May 28 in Springfield, Ill. This will be identical in design to the Lincoln stamp to be issued in pane form Nov. 19 this year.

The "Prominent Americans" series of 18 regular stamps, ranging in denominations from 1-cent to $5, replaces a series that dates back to 1954.

TUNISIA HAS issued a new stamp series called "Foyer des Etudiantes" (The Student Home) consisting of three stamps and two souvenir sheets. The stamps are 25, 40 and 50 milliemes and have a common design showing a school house and a girl reading a book.

The souvenir sheets at 200 milliemes contain the three stamps assembled inside the sketch of a schoolhouse. The Foyer des Etudiantes is a new national institution conceived by Madam Habib Bourguiba, wife of the President of Tunisia.

It provides homes for female students and is a part of a drive to speed up full emancipation of Tunisian women.

Who's Who In World Of Students

SUSAN EVANS

Music and painting are among the top interests of Susan Evans, Oak Glen High School senior.

Daughter of Hancock County Commissioner and Mrs. Jack Evans of 2nd Ave., New Cumberland, Susan is a member of the National Honor Society and Future Teachers of America, and has worked as school library assistant for three years.

She has attended a library workshop at West Virginia University for the past two summers and also attended Camp Horseshoe leadership camp.

Her musical interests include dancing to popular songs, listening to all kinds of music, playing accordion and singing alto with the school chorus and Choralettes.

Susan was a member of the cast of two plays last year and will be in a three - act comedy Nov. 12-13 at the school.

She also paints, splashes around in the swimming pool and likes to bowl. She plans to enroll at Fairmont State College and become a teacher of art and speech.

The Lighter Side

Mr. Ronald Reagan, that noted philospher and student of the democratic process, turned his profile to the best camera angle the other day and announced in his most forthright manner that he just might run for governor of California.

Thus another eminent would-be statesman prepared to take the leap from the faltering lotus land of Hollywood into another never-never land, big-time politics.

Mr. Reagan failed to mention his qualifications for governing the most populous state in the federal union, but perhaps he felt they are too obvious to need cataloging. After all, is he not a manly figure who has been cast in hundreds of hero roles in movie and television fantasies and able to turn a phrase with the best of them—provided someone else writes the script?

HE SEEKS TO TAKE his place in the limelight of government with that other paragon of statesmanship, Sen. George Murphy, Republican, of Beverly Hills.

After all, he must have reasoned, if a tired old song and dance man can make the U.S. Senate, certainly a younger, brighter type has a good chance at the governor's chair in Sacramento.

Pat Brown, the Democratic incumbent, never appeared in a commercial motion picture in his life. He holds no card in Actors Equity and he wouldn't know pancake makeup from a flapjack.

Sen. Murphy helped confirm the nation's judgment on the political maturity of his fellow Californians by winning over an old newspaperman named Pierre Salinger, who sought to prove that he was, too, a bona fide resident of California even though he just happened to have made his home in Washington, D. C., for a dozen years.

At least Salinger knew the difference between a queue and a quorum even though he didn't come through well on the close-ups.

BEFORE OTHER unemployed actors hop aboard this latest gravy train, we here in the East should remind our Western brethren of one unassailable fact:

If more and more Hollywood denizens decide to take seats in the hallowed halls of Congress, it will mean displacing men and women who have been sheltered under that dome for years.

If they can't find jobs in the diplomatic service or a federal bureau—traditional haven for a displaced bureaucrat— they're likely to turn to an allied field where they can use their talents—acting.

Certainly Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois could find a role on "Bonanza." And Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and other places would feel at home on the Perry Mason show.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio would be a natural as a permanent guest on "What's My Line?"

Sen. Hiram L. Fong and Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, representing the 50th state, could hurry off to roles on "Hawaiian Eye" of fragrant memory.

SEN. JOHN L. McCLELLAN of Arkansas might play the tough prosecutor in any number of courtroom dramas and Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota could essay the role of cowering witness or the benign judge.

If there's a brother act on tap, what better combination than Sen. Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia and Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia.

Perhaps a mutual embargo on export of politicians to the west and thespians to the east will halt this latest American madness before it's too late.

After, all some actor with wide national appeal might just take a shot at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. and then begin naming his friends to Cabinet posts and other jobs high in the executive branch.

With Cary Grant for President, who knows that he would not pick Edgar G. Robinson as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation?

Or Louella Parsons for press secretary!

Laneve Addresses Lions

Club's Given Background On Work Behind Airport

Three priority sites now are being considered by the Columbiana County Airport Authority as the site of a county airport under state plans to establish an airport in all 88 counties, Vincent Laneve, of East Liverpool, newly - elected authority chairman, told the Lions Club Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

The possible locations include Swaney Airport near Glenmoor and two sites near Columbiana, Laneve said.

Although he is president of the East Liverpool Jaycees, who were instrumental in securing donation of 83.6 acres of land from Mike Turk at Swaney Airport, Laneve emphasized repeatedly that he now must work impartially.

"TWO WEEKS ago I would have been here trying to sell Swaney as the site for the airport. My job now is to do the best possible job for the county. The nine members of the authority will decide the location. I have only one vote and I took an oath to be impartial," Laneve declared.

The county is scheduled to receive $100,000 for runway construction from state funds under Gov. James Rhodes' plan to establish airports, Laneve said, adding the money only can be used for runway construction and not for the purchase of ground.

Although state money will not be distributed until next spring, four counties already have started work, which means "they'll be just that much ahead of us (county)," Laneve said. Forty of the state's 88 counties already have airports.

Last Febuary, a group met in Lisbon with Norman Crabtree of the State Department of Aviation and his aides, and it was decided that the county should have an airport.

WHEN THE county commissioners established a committee to investigate the possibility of an airport authority, no one from the city of East Liverpool itself was a member, Laneve said.

Laneve and an East Palestine man subsequently were added to the seven - member committee.

When aviation department field representatives inspected eight posible sites, Swaney was among the top three on the list. Previously Jaycee members had acted to secure the donation from Turk and assemble information about the area.

The county needs an airport primarily for the county's economy, he said, adding, "This county isn't as distressed as some in Ohio, but it's not too far away, either."

He pointed out the Community Improvement Corp. of East Liverpool brings industrial executives to see possible plant locations in this area. By flying in, they would see the area from the air and an airport would be an important factor in their decision to establish a plant.

Patterson Industries, Inc., recently secured a large piece of machinery, but it finally was landed at the Beaver County Airport and trucked here, Laneve said.

He recalled that when Gov. Rhodes was a guest of the Jaycees, he also had to land in Pennsylvania.

AN AIRPORT also would increase the land values around it, Laneve said.

He emphasized that "there were no strings attached" to Turk's donation. Recalling that he personally was involved in the negotiations, Laneve said the donation includes any land needed for runways, hangers, gasoline storage, parking and other essentials up to the limit of the tract.

The airport must be close to an interchange with State Route 11, a section of which now is under construction near Swaney Airport, must be near the center of the population, have a minimum runway of 4,000 feet which can be expanded to 5,000 and be free of obstructions.

The southern end of county, including East Liverpool, Wellsville and Liverpool, St. Clair and Madison Townships, has the majority of the 107,000 population, he pointed out.

Laneve was introduced by Richard C. Martin, program chairman. Edward Custer, president, presided.

Richard Walker of the East Liverpool club announced a zone meeting will be held Nov. 16 in Minerva. Reservations for the dinner meeting must be turned in by Nov. 10, he said.

Policeman Held For Grand Jury In Man's Death

PITTSBURGH — City Patrolman Robert MacBeth was held for the Allegheny County Grand Jury Friday on a manslaughter charge in the fatal shooting of an East Liberty man running from a crap game Oct. 23.

At a coroner's inquest, MacBeth, 36, was charged in the slaying of Louis Hardy, 25, of Frankstown Ave.

The officer previously had been charged with manslaughter and released under $2,500 bond. He has also been suspended from the police force.

Among the large crowd at the hearing were Negro leaders who had criticized the shooting of Hardy, a Negro, as an example of brutal treatment of Negroes by police.

Laneve Addresses Lions

Club's Given Background On Work Behind Airport

Three priority sites now are being considered by the Columbiana County Airport Authority as the site of a county airport under state plans to establish an airport in all 88 counties, Vincent Laneve, of East Liverpool, newly - elected authority chairman, told the Lions Club Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

The possible locations include Swaney Airport near Glenmoor and two sites near Columbiana, Laneve said.

Although he is president of the East Liverpool Jaycees, who were instrumental in securing donation of 83.6 acres of land from Mike Turk at Swaney Airport, Laneve emphasized repeatedly that he now must work impartially.

"TWO WEEKS ago I would have been here trying to sell Swaney as the site for the airport. My job now is to do the best possible job for the county. The nine members of the authority will decide the location. I have only one vote and I took an oath to be impartial," Laneve declared.

The county is scheduled to receive $100,000 for runway construction from state funds under Gov. James Rhodes' plan to establish airports, Laneve said, adding the money only can be used for runway construction and not for the purchase of ground.

Although state money will not be distributed until next spring, four counties already have started work, which means "they'll be just that much ahead of us (county)," Laneve said. Forty of the state's 88 counties already have airports.

Last Febuary, a group met in Lisbon with Norman Crabtree of the State Department of Aviation and his aides, and it was decided that the county should have an airport.

WHEN THE county commissioners established a committee to investigate the possibility of an airport authority, no one from the city of East Liverpool itself was a member, Laneve said.

Laneve and an East Palestine man subsequently were added to the seven - member committee.

When aviation department field representatives inspected eight posible sites, Swaney was among the top three on the list. Previously Jaycee members had acted to secure the donation from Turk and assemble information about the area.

The county needs an airport primarily for the county's economy, he said, adding, "This county isn't as distressed as some in Ohio, but it's not too far away, either."

He pointed out the Community Improvement Corp. of East Liverpool brings industrial executives to see possible plant locations in this area. By flying in, they would see the area from the air and an airport would be an important factor in their decision to establish a plant.

Patterson Industries, Inc., recently secured a large piece of machinery, but it finally was landed at the Beaver County Airport and trucked here, Laneve said.

He recalled that when Gov. Rhodes was a guest of the Jaycees, he also had to land in Pennsylvania.

AN AIRPORT also would increase the land values around it, Laneve said.

He empnasized that "there were no strings attached" to Turk's donation. Recalling that he personally was involved in the negotiations, Laneve said the donation includes any land needed for runways, hangers, gasoline storage, parking and other essentials up to the limit of the tract.

The airport must be close to an interchange with State Route 11, a section of which now is under construction near Swaney Airport, must be near the center of the population, have a minimum runway of 4,000 feet which can be expanded to 5,000 and be free of obstructions.

The southern end of county, including East Liverpool, Wellsville and Liverpool, St. Clair and Madison Townships, has the majority of the 107,000 population, he pointed out.

Laneve was introduced by Richard C. Martin, program chairman. Edward Custer, president, presided.

Richard Walker of the East Liverpool club announced a zone meeting will be held Nov. 16 in Minerva. Reservations for the dinner meeting must be turned in by Nov. 10, he said.

Potters Smash Rival Salem, 46-13, In Home Finale

The Review Sports

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1965 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 11

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Writer

East Liverpool marked its Golden Anniversary game with Salem by setting off its best display of offensive fireworks 13 victory Friday night at Patterson Field before only 2,500 fans, a new low for the season.

The 50th meeting between the two schools saw the Potters turn in their biggest score of the campaign and assured a winning record as the Blue and White stock was boosted to a 5-3-1 mark, with Alliance waiting in the wings for the finale next Friday.

ALTHOUGH the score might not indicate it, East Liverpool actually trailed at one time for almost five minutes in the second quarter before Coach Bob McNea's forces exploded to turn the game into a lopsided affair.

East Liverpool scored three times in the first half, then hit paydirt on four occasions in the second when the Potters' alert defense turned three interceptions into touchdowns.

The passing of quarterback Chuck Winters, who hit the touchdowns bulls-eye twice while scoring one himself, three TD's by Nick Marchbanks and a pair by Darryl Herring, the 135-pound scatback, led the Potter onslaught.

WINTERS fired to his favorite target, Bob Woods, who ran a perfect down and out pattern, for the first touchdown with 5:50 to go in the first period. The conversion after the first TD failed.

Salem turned around and seemed determined to make a contest of it, marching 65 yards to the Potter two from where sprint man Dave Fleischer slipped into the end zone on the third play of the second period.

Salem took its only lead of the night when Jim Lantz booted the first extra point seen kicked this season at Patterson Field for a 7-6 lead.

THE QUAKERS' margin stood up for five minutes until the Potters mastered Salem's stacked up defense by heading far around the ends with some wide stuff and moved the ball to the Salem two.

From here, Herring found room to put East Liverpool in front for good with 6:02 left in the first half.

Before the teams went to the dressing rooms at halftime, Winters pitched a perfectly-timed touchdown aerial to Marchbanks, who took the ball on the dead run on a play covering 17 yards. A Winters - to - Woods conversion pass was good to put the score at 20-7.

The Potter defense took over in the second half and neatly set the table for three quick touchdowns.

AFTER Salem had stopped the Potters at the 10, Quaker quarterback Tod Chappell was chased back near his goal line. While attempting to throw on the run, Chappell's pass wound up in the arms of Potter defensive end Chuck Harris, who kept his footing and advanced to the Salem four. Three plays later Winters, on a neat bootleg, scored standing up with 5:19 remaining in the third quarter.

Defensive halfback Dick Lamborn was next to step into the way of a Quaker pass, snagging another Salem pass on the secfield and racing to the Salem 13.

JIM GOODING, showing his best form of the season, went eight yards to the five to set the stage for Marchbanks, who crashed over a play later. Winters pitched a pass to Gooding for the conversion and a 34-7 lead.

On the next series of downs, Capt. Clarence Crable ran like a halfback when he came out of his linebacker spot to intercept another Salem pass on the second play of the fourth quarter.

Crable grabbed the aerial on the Potter 20 and raced 49 yards to the Salem 31.

A 15-YARD penalty set the Potters back to the 41, from where Winters wound up and hit the speedy Herring, who covered 41 yards to the Salem five. A play later as 10:04 flashed on the clock Marchbanks hit touchdown land from five yards out, sending the score to 40-7.

Late in the fourth quarter, Salem turned an intercepted pass into its second touchdown. The pass, thrown by Emery Brewer, was stolen by Ken Kenst, who ran from midfield to the Potter 20 before being pulled down.

A Chappell - to - Joe Rotenborn pass carried to the five and Fleischer went the remaining distance for his second touchdown of the night.

SALEM'S second TD came with 2:56 left in the game, but the Potters matched this when halfback Mike Goodballet passed to Herring, who managed to keep his balance and raced 53 yards for the final touchdown as 1:21 showed on the clock.

East Liverpool, which had scored 40 points on two occasions this season, hit its high last night. The victory also gives the Potters a 28-20-2 edge in the long rivalry.

The Blue and White rolled up an offense of 349 yards, with 183 on the ground and 166 in the air. Winters completed five of 12 passes for 110 yards and didn't have any intercepted.

MARCHBANKS rushed for 49 yards and Herring added 48, plus catching two passes good for 94 yards.

Rotenborn and Fleischer proved to be the most effective punch for the Quakers, gaining most of the 102 yards on the ground.

Oak Glen Roars From Behind To Defeat Weirton, 13-12

Six Scores Pair; Bears Finish 8-2

By JOHN COMO
Review Sports Writer

The Oak Glen Golden Bears took the measure of the Weir High Red Riders, 13-12, in the first meeting between the two teams Friday night at Newell Field.

Oak Glen used a lot of heart and an equal amount of muscle in walking off the field in possession of the Carl Hamill Memorial Trophy, a towering 48-inch monument of victory that will be up for grabs each time the two Hancock County rivals meet. The trophy is presented as a tribute to Weirton's all-time great football coach Carl Hamill.

If the first battle is any indication of what is to be over the years, only the fans who are strong at heart had better attend.

TWICE the Golden Bears fell behind at their own undoing on blocked punts. And twice they regained the poise of a winner to snap back from the errors.

The first miscue came at the turn of the second period of an attempted quick kick on third down. A clipping penalty on a punt return set Oak Glen back to its own three - yard line and the Bears could move only to the eight after two downs.

ON THIRD down, fullback Marvin Six took the direct snap from center for an attempted punt, but found the ball smothered by Weirton right end John Spensky. Red Rider left end James Littleton pounced on the blocked pigskin in the end zone and the visitors led 6-0 with just six seconds gone in the period. The kick for the point was wide.

Then one minute later Oak Glen rested on top of a 7-6 score.

The passing combination of Tom Thayer to Six was responsible. On the second play from scrimmage after receiving the ensuing kickoff, Six hauled in a seven - yard flare pass at midfield and threaded his way through several blockers for a touchdown to complete a 53-yard strike. Ron Rayburn kicked the ball through the upright for a 7-6 lead and the eventual winning point at the 11:54 mark of the second period.

THE RED RIDERS roared back, with scatbacks Larry Fernandez and Steve Spensky carrying the load, and marched 63 yards to the Oak Glen one before Tom Lamb halted the drive by recovering a fumble.

Unable to move the ball past the six - yard line, Six dropped back into the end zone to punt. Once more, however, Spensky was in on him and blocked the punt.

Lightning isn't supposed to strike twice in the same spot, but it did last night as Littleton was Weirton's man of the hour again as he picked up the ball at the four-yard line and dived into the end zone for his second tally. The try for the extra point was wide and the Red Riders led 12-7 with 2:47 left in the half.

WEIRTON ate up most of the time in the third period by taking the second - half kickoff and launching a relentless drive to the Oak Glen five - yard line. Fernandez did most of the ball toting and had one run of 23 yards nullified by a penalty.

The Golden Bear forward wall dug in, however, at the five and held as quarterback Jim Gettinger was stopped inches short of the necessary yardage.

With less than two minutes remaining in the third period, Oak Glen started a march from the five that extended to the 9:51 mark of the final period and resulted in the winning tally.

A 38-YARD pass from Thayer to end John Zelinsky that carried the ball to the Oak Glen 42 got the drive rolling. Gains of 13 and 2 yards by Richard Everly then moved the ball to Weirton's 43.

At this point, Oak Glen got its first break of the game as a personal foul penalty against the Red Riders advanced the ball to the Weirton 26. Everly added a four yard gain to the 22 and from this point Six took over to move the ball across the goal line on seven carries, scoring from the four.

Rayburn missed the point on a wide boot, but the victory was settled, 13-12.

WEIRTON got its hands on the ball three times after the score, but each time the Oak Glen defense met the challenge by holding the visitors to minus six yards in the fourth quarter.

A jubilant head coach Bob Starkey, who watched his fighting Golden Bears finish the season with their eighth win in 10 starts, had just one explanation for the win. "Team. And what a team! These boys are a bunch of fighting fools. I love them all!" shouted Starkey.

The heart - breaking loss left Weirton with a 4-4-1 slate.

Gains 252 Yards In Best Effort

It wasn't designated as such but "Chris Thornton night" must have been observed at Wellsville's Nicholson Field Friday.

In one of the finest one man efforts, Thundering Chris scored all his team's points in leading the Tigers to a 30-22 victory over a battling Springfield Local team for their fifth victory against four losses.

THORNTON was almost unstoppable as he roared for five touchdown runs of 23, 17, 68, 4 and 49 yards.

The great performance pushed him to 114 points for the season, bettering his own school mark set last year. While it was his finest night of the season, Wellsville's All-Ohio candidate didn't gain an inch in the district scoring race as Larry Roberts had a similar night at Toronto scoring the same number of points as Beaver Local fell to the Red Knights.

NEXT WEEK, the district race will be settled on even terms when Thornton leads Wellsville against Roberts and his Beaver Local mates at the Beaver Local gridiron.

While chalking up four touchdowns, Chris picked up 252 yards rushing which must be a Wellsville single game record if all records could be checked.

The 252 yards of real estate gives the 190-pounder 1,390 for season. His total last night came on 30 carries.

Although Chris was at his best, Springfield stayed right with the Tigers to make the contest close throughout.

WELLSVILLE scored in the first three minutes of play when Thornton dashed 23 yards with 9:52 remaining in the first period. Three minutes later he was off and running again for 17 yards.

On both touchdowns, the Tigers missed the conversions but led 12-0 before Springfield came up with eight points in the second period with Cliff Manson climaxing a long drive with a plunge from the one. Manson also added the conversion.

THORNTON wasted little time in the second half as he turned in a sparkling 68 yard touchdown run on the first play of the third quarter to send Wellsville in front, 18-8.

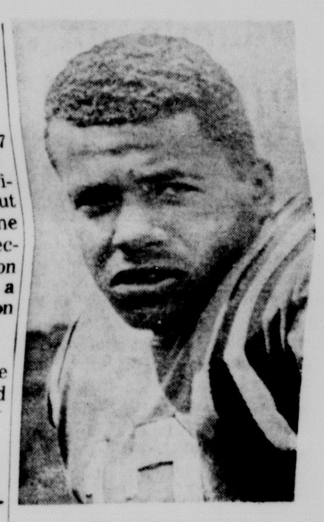

Springfield failed to give any ground and made the contest snug again when Bill Williams crashed through from the three and Manson added the conversion to cut the Tiger lead to 18-16.

With 7:46 left in the game, Thornton went four yards for his fourth touchdown which put the count at 24-16. Again the Tigers missed the conversion.

SPRINGFIELD remained in striking distance and tallied with 4:49 to go in the contest when Manson passed to Rich Woods on a 39-yard touchdown play. The conversion which would have tied the game failed when the visitors attempted a run.

Springfield tried an onside kick but it failed and Wellsville took over on the Springfield 49. On first down, Thornton went 49 yards for his fifth touchdown.

Roberts Nets 4 In 44-32 Setback

Beaver Star Protects TD Lead With 30 Points

Fleet - footed Larry Roberts turned in his second straight 30-point performance in a losing cause Friday at Toronto as the Red Knights downed Beaver Local, 44-32.

Roberts tallied four touchdowns and added three two-point conversions to match Wellsville's Chris Thornton, who paced the Tigers past Springfield Local, 30-22. His second straight scoring spree kept Roberts 12 points up on Thornton in the district scoring race, 126-114.

TORONTO parlayed a 22-point second quarter splurge into a victory over the fighting Beavers after the teams had played to an 8-8 stalmate in the first period.

Bob Anderson got the Red Knights rolling by returning the opening kick off 80 yards to paydirt. Garry Fisher barged in for the conversion and an 8-0 lead.

ROBERTS got the tally back with an 11-yard run with 8:36 showing on the clock in the first period and added a two - pointer for a deadlock of 8-8.

Five seconds into the second period, Ernie McGrath ended a march for Toronto by scampering 16 yards for a 14-8 advantage.

THE FIGHTING Beavers gained their only lead shortly after as Roberts tore off on a 59-yard run for his second touchdown. He added a two-point conversion for a short lived 16-14 margin.

Toronto quarterback Denny Leasure and fullback McGrath crossed the goal line later in the same period to give the Red Knights a lead they never relinquished.

Leasure crashed in from the five and then passed to Fisher for the conversion.

MCGRATH followed with a 30-yard run and added a two-pointer to present the host with a 30-16 halftime cushion.

The Red Knights held Beaver Local scoreless in the third stanza, while McGrath added his third tally of the game. Fisher busted in for the conversion and a 38-16 third quarter margin.

BEAVER sophomore quarterback Dennis Klembara connected with Roberts for scoring aerials of 70 and 30 yards in the fourth period, but the comeback wasn't good enough. Roberts converted after the 70-yard bomb and Jeff Lane broke into the scoring with a conversion after the final tally.

Sandwiched between the scoring passes was a 30-yard run by Red Knight quarterback Leasure. A pass failed in the try for a conversion.

Beaver Local dropped to a 4-5 mark, while Toronto upped its slate to 3-5-1.

More honors have come to Hil-Ray's Kennels operated by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Bigelow of Negley.

"Black Imp," a 16 - month-old male Scottish terrier, captured top honors in competition at the Scottish Terrier Club of Northern Ohio at Mansfield.

He won the sweepstakes both in his own class and the senior division.

"Scottish Melody" finished second in her class and third in the "Puppy Sweepstakes" and fourth in the regular class.

At the Scottie Specialty in the regular class, "Gaidoune Gale" finished second in the open class and now needs a three-point major plus two points to complete her title.

In the regular class at the Scottie Specialty, "Imp" won the open dog competition, the "Winner's Dog" for a four-point major and the "best opposite sex."

The Bigelows point out that had one more dog been entered, "Imp" could have wrapped up his championship title at the time, since it takes 17 dogs for a five - point major. He now needs but one point to achieve this goal.

He has been shown in seven shows since Sept. 12, beginning at Jamestown.

Potters Smash Rival Salem, 46-13, In Home Finale

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1965 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 11

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Writer

East Liverpool marked its Golden Anniversary game with Salem by setting off its best display of offensive fireworks 13 victory Friday night at Patterson Field before only 2,500 fans, a new low for the season.

The 50th meeting between the two schools saw the Potters turn in their biggest score of the campaign and assured a winning record as the Blue and White stock was boosted to a 5-3-1 mark, with Alliance waiting in the wings for the finale next Friday.

ALTHOUGH the score might not indicate it, East Liverpool actually trailed at one time for almost five minutes in the second quarter before Coach Bob McNea's forces exploded to turn the game into a lopsided affair.

East Liverpool scored three times in the first half, then hit paydirt on four occasions in the second when the Potters' alert defense turned three interceptions into touchdowns.

The passing of quarterback Chuck Winters, who hit the touchdowns bulls-eye twice while scoring one himself, three TD's by Nick Marchbanks and a pair by Darryl Herring, the 135-pound scatback, led the Potter onslaught.

WINTERS fired to his favorite target, Bob Woods, who ran a perfect down and out pattern, for the first touchdown with 5:50 to go in the first period. The conversion after the first TD failed.

Salem turned around and seemed determined to make a contest of it, marching 65 yards to the Potter two from where sprint man Dave Fleischer slipped into the end zone on the third play of the second period.

Salem took its only lead of the night when Jim Lantz booted the first extra point seen kicked this season at Patterson Field for a 7-6 lead.

THE QUAKERS' margin stood up for five minutes until the Potters mastered Salem's stacked up defense by heading far around the ends with some wide stuff and moved the ball to the Salem two.

From here, Herring found room to put East Liverpool in front for good with 6:02 left in the first half.

Before the teams went to the dressing rooms at halftime, Winters pitched a perfectly-timed touchdown aerial to Marchbanks, who took the ball on the dead run on a play covering 17 yards. A Winters - to - Woods conversion pass was good to put the score at 20-7.

The Potter defense took over in the second half and neatly set the table for three quick touchdowns.

AFTER Salem had stopped the Potters at the 10, Quaker quarterback Tod Chappell was chased back near his goal line. While attempting to throw on the run, Chappell's pass wound up in the arms of Potter defensive end Chuck Harris, who kept his footing and advanced to the Salem four. Three plays later Winters, on a neat bootleg, scored standing up with 5:19 remaining in the third quarter.

Defensive halfback Dick Lamborn was next to step into the way of a Quaker pass, snagging another Salem pass on the second field and racing to the Salem 13.

JIM GOODING, showing his best form of the season, went eight yards to the five to set the stage for Marchbanks, who crashed over a play later. Winters pitched a pass to Gooding for the conversion and a 34-7 lead.

On the next series of downs, Capt. Clarence Crable ran like a halfback when he came out of his linebacker spot to intercept another Salem pass on the second play of the fourth quarter.

Crable grabbed the aerial on the Potter 20 and raced 49 yards to the Salem 31.

A 15-YARD penalty set the Potters back to the 41, from where Winters wound up and hit the speedy Herring, who covered 41 yards to the Salem five. A play later as 10:04 flashed on the clock Marchbanks hit touchdown land from five yards out, sending the score to 40-7.

Late in the fourth quarter, Salem turned an intercepted pass into its second touchdown. The pass, thrown by Emery Brewer, was stolen by Ken Kenst, who ran from midfield to the Potter 20 before being pulled down.

A Chappell - to - Joe Rotenborn pass carried to the five and Fleischer went the remaining distance for his second touchdown of the night.

SALEM'S second TD came with 2:56 left in the game, but the Potters matched this when halfback Mike Goodballet passed to Herring, who managed to keep his balance and raced 53 yards for the final touchdown as 1:21 showed on the clock.

East Liverpool, which had scored 40 points on two occasions this season, hit its high last night. The victory also gives the Potters a 28-20-2 edge in the long rivalry.

The Blue and White rolled up an offense of 349 yards, with 183 on the ground and 166 in the air. Winters completed five of 12 passes for 110 yards and didn't have any intercepted.

MARCHBANKS rushed for 49 yards and Herring added 48, plus catching two passes good for 94 yards.

Rotenborn and Fleischer proved to be the most effective punch for the Quakers, gaining most of the 102 yards on the ground.

Six Scores Pair; Bears Finish 8-2

By JOHN COMO
Review Sports Writer

The Oak Glen Golden Bears took the measure of the Weir High Red Riders, 13-12, in the first meeting between the two teams Friday night at Newell Field.

Oak Glen used a lot of heart and an equal amount of muscle in walking off the field in possession of the Carl Hamill Memorial Trophy, a towering 48-inch monument of victory that will be up for grabs each time the two Hancock County rivals meet. The trophy is presented as a tribute to Weirton's all-time great football coach Carl Hamill.

If the first battle is any indication of what is to be over the years, only the fans who are strong at heart had better attend.

TWICE the Golden Bears fell behind at their own undoing on blocked punts. And twice they regained the poise of a winner to snap back from the errors.

The first miscue came at the turn of the second period of an attempted quick kick on third down. A clipping penalty on a punt return set Oak Glen back to its own three - yard line and the Bears could move only to the eight after two downs.

ON THIRD down, fullback Marvin Six took the direct snap from center for an attempted punt, but found the ball smothered by Weirton right end John Spensky. Red Rider left end James Littleton pounced on the blocked pigskin in the end zone and the visitors led 6-0 with just six seconds gone in the period. The kick for the point was wide.

Then one minute later Oak Glen rested on top of a 7-6 score.

The passing combination of Tom Thayer to Six was responsible. On the second play from scrimmage after receiving the ensuing kickoff, Six hauled in a seven - yard flare pass at midfield and threaded his way through several blockers for a touchdown to complete a 53-yard strike. Ron Rayburn kicked the ball through the upright for a 7-6 lead and the eventual winning point at the 11:54 mark of the second period.

THE RED RIDERS roared back, with scatbacks Larry Fernandez and Steve Spensky carrying the load, and marched 63 yards to the Oak Glen one before Tom Lamb halted the drive by recovering a fumble.

Unable to move the ball past the six - yard line, Six dropped back into the end zone to punt. Once more, however, Spensky was in on him and blocked the punt.

Lightning isn't supposed to strike twice in the same spot, but it did last night as Littleton was Weirton's man of the hour again as he picked up the ball at the four-yard line and dived into the end zone for his second tally. The try for the extra point was wide and the Red Riders led 12-7 with 2:47 left in the half.

WEIRTON ate up most of the time in the third period by taking the second - half kickoff and launching a relentless drive to the Oak Glen five - yard line. Fernandez did most of the ball toting and had one run of 23 yards nullified by a penalty.

The Golden Bear forward wall dug in, however, at the five and held as quarterback Jim Gettinger was stopped inches short of the necessary yardage.

With less than two minutes remaining in the third period, Oak Glen started a march from the five that extended to the 9:51 mark of the final period and resulted in the winning tally.

A 38-YARD pass from Thayer to end John Zelinsky that carried the ball to the Oak Glen 42 got the drive rolling. Gains of 13 and 2 yards by Richard Everly then moved the ball to Weirton's 43.

At this point, Oak Glen got its first break of the game as a personal foul penalty against the Red Riders advanced the ball to the Weirton 26. Everly added a four yard gain to the 22 and from this point Six took over to move the ball across the goal line on seven carries, scoring from the four.

Rayburn missed the point on a wide boot, but the victory was settled, 13-12.

WEIRTON got its hands on the ball three times after the score, but each time the Oak Glen defense met the challenge by holding the visitors to minus six yards in the fourth quarter.

A jubilant head coach Bob Starkey, who watched his fighting Golden Bears finish the season with their eighth win in 10 starts, had just one explanation for the win. "Team. And what a team! These boys are a bunch of fighting fools. I love them all!" shouted Starkey.

Gains 252 Yards In Best Effort

It wasn't designated as such but "Chris Thornton night" must have been observed at Wellsville's Nicholson Field Friday.

In one of the finest one man efforts, Thundering Chris scored all his team's points in leading the Tigers to a 30-22 victory over a battling Springfield Local team for their fifth victory against four losses.

THORNTON was almost unstoppable as he roared for five touchdown runs of 23, 17, 68, 4 and 49 yards.

The great performance pushed him to 114 points for the season, bettering his own school mark set last year. While it was his finest night of the season, Wellsville's All-Ohio candidate didn't gain an inch in the district scoring race as Larry Roberts had a similar night at Toronto scoring the same number of points as Beaver Local fell to the Red Knights.

NEXT WEEK, the district race will be settled on even terms when Thornton leads Wellsville against Roberts and his Beaver Local mates at the Beaver Local gridiron.

While chalking up four touchdowns, Chris picked up 252 yards rushing which must be a Wellsville single game record if all records could be checked.

The 252 yards of real estate gives the 190-pounder 1,390 for season. His total last night came on 30 carries.

Although Chris was at his best, Springfield stayed right with the Tigers to make the contest close throughout.

WELLSVILLE scored in the first three minutes of play when Thornton dashed 23 yards with 9:52 remaining in the first period. Three minutes later he was off and running again for 17 yards.

On both touchdowns, the Tigers missed the conversions but led 12-0 before Springfield came up with eight points in the second period with Cliff Manson climaxing a long drive with a plunge from the one. Manson also added the conversion.

THORNTON wasted little time in the second half as he turned in a sparkling 68 yard touchdown run on the first play of the third quarter to send Wellsville in front, 18-8.

CHRIS THORNTON
Turns In Finest Night.

Springfield failed to give any ground and made the contest snug again when Bill Williams crashed through from the three and Manson added the conversion to cut the Tiger lead to 18-16.

With 7:46 left in the game, Thornton went four yards for his fourth touchdown which put the count at 24-16. Again the Tigers missed the conversion.

SPRINGFIELD remained in striking distance and tallied with 4:49 to go in the contest when Manson passed to Rich Woods on a 39-yard touchdown play. The conversion which would have tied the game failed when the visitors attempted a run.

Springfield tried an onside kick but it failed and Wellsville took over on the Springfield 49. On first down, Thornton went 49 yards for his fifth touchdown.

Roberts Nets 4 In 44-32 Setback

Beaver Star Protects TD Lead With 30 Points

Fleet - footed Larry Roberts turned in his second straight 30-point performance in a losing cause Friday at Toronto as the Red Knights downed Beaver Local, 44-32.

Roberts tallied four touchdowns and added three two-point conversions to match Wellsville's Chris Thornton, who paced the Tigers past Springfield Local, 30-22. His second straight scoring spree kept Roberts 12 points up on Thornton in the district scoring race, 126-114.

TORONTO parlayed a 22-point second quarter splurge into a victory over the fighting Beavers after the teams had played to an 8-8 stalmate in the first period.

Bob Anderson got the Red Knights rolling by returning the opening kick off 80 yards to paydirt. Garry Fisher barged in for the conversion and an 8-0 lead.

ROBERTS got the tally back with an 11-yard run with 8:36 showing on the clock in the first period and added a two - pointer for a deadlock of 8-8.

Five seconds into the second period, Ernie McGrath ended a march for Toronto by scampering 16 yards for a 14-8 advantage.

THE FIGHTING Beavers gained their only lead shortly after as Roberts tore off on a 59-yard run for his second touchdown. He added a two-point conversion for a short lived 16-14 margin.

Toronto quarterback Denny Leasure and fullback McGrath crossed the goal line later in the same period to give the Red Knights a lead they never relinquished.

Leasure crashed in from the five and then passed to Fisher for the conversion.

MCGRATH followed with a 30-yard run and added a two-pointer to present the host with a 30-16 halftime cushion.

The Red Knights held Beaver Local scoreless in the third stanza, while McGrath added his third tally of the game. Fisher busted in for the conversion and a 38-16 third quarter margin.

BEAVER sophomore quarterback Dennis Klembara connected with Roberts for scoring aerials of 70 and 30 yards in the fourth period, but the comeback wasn't good enough. Roberts converted after the 70-yard bomb and Jeff Lane broke into the scoring with a conversion after the final tally.

Sandwiched between the scoring passes was a 30-yard run by Red Knight quarterback Leasure. A pass failed in the try for a conversion.

Beaver Local dropped to a 4-5 mark, while Toronto upped its slate to 3-5-1.

Midland Winds Up Season In 18-14 Win Over Freedom

★ ★ ★ Leopards Capture 4 Of 9 ★ ★ ★

Midland opened and closed its 1965 season on bright notes to wind up with a 4-5 record after an 18-14 victory over Freedom Friday night at Midland.

The Leopards fell behind 7-6 in the first quarter but single scores in the second and third quarters stood up for the victory.

MIDLAND moved 67 yards in 14 carries in the first quarter with quarterback Rich Mahurt sneaking in from three yards with 4:06 remaining in the first quarter but the Leopards missed the conversion.

The lead didn't last long, Freedom roared back as Skip Haglan scored on a 43-yard romp before the first period ended and a pass from Denn Trombetta to Jim Lassiter put Freedom in front, 7-6.

MAHURT appeared on the scene again, defensively this time to intercept a Freedom pass at the opponents 21. From this point, Mahurt hit Dave Vanlier for a 21-yard touchdown pass with only three seconds left in the first half. The conversion attempt was blocked but Midland took a 12-7 lead to the dressing room.

In the third quarter, Midland came out and drove 60 yards in 12 plays with Tom Wuchina hammering through for the last 16 yards to score with 4:17 remaining in the period.

THE LEOPARDS held Freedom scoreless until the closing minutes when Mitch Yanyanin plunged over from the one.

Freedom is 4-4-1 for the season.

Midland had a 16-10 edge in first downs and outrushed its opponent, 230 to 160. The Leopards picked up another 102 yards in the air.

JU Finishes Season Undefeated

Riggs Scores 4 In Victory Over Stanton

RICHMOND — What a difference a year makes, especially at Jefferson Union High School. Just ask head coach Norm Allison, a former assistant at Beaver Local now in his second year at JU.

Last season the Yellowjackets didn't win a football game in 10 attempts but Friday afternoon the JU eleven finished the season with a perfect 9-0 record, the first in the history of the Steubenville area school.

The precisioned forces of JU, headed by a strong forward wall with a combination of backs to go with it, made it nine in a row by defeating rival Stanton Local, 34-14, in an afternoon game at the JU gridiron.

PROBABLY the biggest reason for JU's success this season is the fact that Rick Riggs, a devasting 165 - pound halfback, with speed to burn came out for football.

Riggs had given up the sport the past two years but reported for practice this season.

He concluded a great senior year Friday when he chalked up four touchdowns and two conversions for 28 points.

—:—

STANTON Local, which came back strong after a midseason slump battled JU on even terms up until four minutes remaining in the first half when the turning point came.

JU came up with two quick touchdowns in the last four minutes of the first half to break a 6-6 tie and take a 20-6 margin to the dressing room at halftime.

Riggs opened the scoring for JU by romping seven yards in the first period to conclude a 70-yard drive.

Stanton bounced back early in the second period. After recovering a fumble on the JU 15, Doug Hamilton swept around the end for 10 yards and the TD. A pass for the conversion failed.

WITH four minutes remaining in the opening half, Craig Carmen busted off tackle for a 75 - yard touchdown romp to put JU in front for good, 12-6.

On the final play of the first half, quarterback Larry Kelly hit Riggs with a pass for another TD and Riggs added the conversion to up the count to 20-6.

In the third quarter, Riggs found the end zone again on a 10-yard sweep to complete an 80 yard drive.

STANTON Local moved the ball well in the third quarter and a 45-yard pass from Norm Grimm to John Leedy set up the Raiders second touchdown. Elmer Tice scored it on a four-yard jaunt then added the conversion.

JU's final touchdown came after a fumble which was recovered on the Stanton 30. Riggs went over several plays later from the six and put over the conversion.

Stanton was handicapped by the loss of regular quarterback Randy Perkins who suffered a back injury and was taken to City Hospital where he was in "fair condition."

GRIMM, a regular end replaced Perkins but he suffered an ankle injury and Stanton ended the game with a freshman quarterback.

Winning Streak At Stake For Bears, Colts Sunday

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Bears soon will learn whether their two-pronged time bomb will explode again or turn into a dud.

The Baltimore Colts will find out, too, and for the sake of their five-game winning streak and their title chances, they hope they'll be able to muffle the Bears' bombs.

The Colts play Chicago Sunday and must win to retain at least a share of the lead in the National Football League's Western Conference.

The Green Bay Packers, currently tied with Baltimore, will try to rebound against Detroit after Chicago snapped their six-game winning string last Sunday.

Tre Bears' victory extended their winning streak to four, a streak that has been fired by youthful backs Gale Sayers and Andy Livingston.

Sayers is a 22-year-old rookie while Livingston is a 21-year-old sophomore who never played college football. Together they have gained 971 yards through rushing and pass receiving, a total exceeded by only three pairs of backs in the league.

Eight-year veteran Jon Arnett is one Bear whose job has become competitive as a result. Last week he led the team in rushing with 73 yards.

"I had to run that way," he explained, "or those kids wouldn't let me back in the lineup."

In the rest of the NFL lineup for Sunday, it will be Philadelphia at Cleveland, Los Angeles at Minnesota, Pittsburgh at St. Louis, Washington at New York and San Francisco at Dallas.

Green Bay and Bart Starr will try to start another winning streak against Detroit. Starr seeks to recover his form after the Bears intercepted three of his passes and twice threw him for losses.

Cleveland also will try to start another winning string. Minnesota broke the Browns' four-game streak last week, but the Browns remain one game ahead of their closest Eastern Conference competitors, St. Louis and New York.

Leetonia's touchdowns came on a three yard jaunt by Dave Bell in the third quarter and a seven yard run by Allen Bloor in the fourth.

Kerr Misses 1st Game Of Pro Career

By The Associated Press

Johnny Kerr stepped out of a shadow five days ago when the Baltimore Bullets traded Walt Bellamy to New York.

Friday night the 6-foot-9 Kerr stepped back into the shadow — and missed the first National Basketball Association game of his 12-year pro career.

Kerr's iron-man stint of 917 consecutive NBA games slipped away as the Bullets dropped a 129-118 verdict to hot-shooting Sam Jones and the champion Boston Celtics. The big redhead, whose streak included 844 regular-season games, had not sat one out since breaking into the league in 1954 with the Syracuse Nats.

Wilt Chamberlain, whom Kerr understudied at Philadelphia last season, also was on the bench when the 76ers broke open a three-point game with a third-quarter spurt that led to a 133-115 victory over San Francisco.

Cincinnati beat Detroit 120-114, and Los Angeles nipped St. Louis 118-116 inother games.

Leopards Win 27th Straight At Palestine

Chelbeck raced 52 yards for one touchdown and six and seven yards for two others to pace the rout.

Louisville scored in every quarter as the Leopards clinched the Tri - County League title.

Midland Winds Up Season In 18-14 Win Over Freedom

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Leopards Capture 4 Of 9

Midland opened and closed its 1965 season on bright notes to wind up with a 4-5 record after an 18-14 victory over Freedom Friday night at Midland.

The Leopards fell behind 7-6 in the first quarter but single scores in the second and third quarters stood up for the victory.

MIDLAND moved 67 yards in 14 carries in the first quarter with quarterback Rich Mahurt sneaking in from three yards with 4:06 remaining in the first quarter but the Leopards missed the conversion.

The lead didn't last long. Freedom roared back as Skip Haglan scored on a 43-yard romp before the first period ended and a pass from Denn Trombetta to Jim Lassiter put Freedom in front, 7-6.

MAHURT appeared on the scene again, defensively this time to intercept a Freedom pass at the opponents 21. From this point, Mahurt hit Dave Vanlier for a 21-yard touchdown pass with only three seconds left in the first half. The conversion attempt was blocked but Midland took a 12-7 lead to the dressing room.

In the third quarter, Midland came out and drove 60 yards in 12 plays with Tom Wuchina hammering through for the last 16 yards to score with 4:17 remaining in the period.

—:—

THE LEOPARDS held Freedom scoreless until the closing minutes when Mitch Yanyanin plunged over from the one.

Freedom is 4-4-1 for the season.

Midland had a 16-10 edge in first downs and outrushed its opponent, 230 to 160. The Leopards picked up another 102 yards in the air.

Riggs Scores 4 In Victory Over Stanton

RICHMOND — What a difference a year makes, especially at Jefferson Union High School. Just ask head coach Norm Allison, a former assistant at Beaver Local now in his second year at JU.

Last season the Yellowjackets didn't win a football game in 10 attempts but Friday afternoon the JU eleven finished the season with a perfect 9-0 record, the first in the history of the Steubenville area school.

The precisioned forces of JU, headed by a strong forward wall with a combination of backs to go with it, made it nine in a row by defeating rival Stanton Local, 34-14, in an afternoon game at the JU gridiron.

PROBABLY the biggest reason for JU's success this season is the fact that Rick Riggs, a devasting 165 - pound halfback, with speed to burn came out for football.

Riggs had given up the sport the past two years but reported for practice this season.

He concluded a great senior year Friday when he chalked up four touchdowns and two conversions for 28 points.

—:—

STANTON Local, which came back strong after a midseason slump battled JU on even terms up until four minutes remaining in the first half when the turning point came.

JU came up with two quick touchdowns in the last four minutes of the first half to break a 6-6 tie and take a 20-6 margin to the dressing room at halftime.

Riggs opened the scoring for JU by romping seven yards in the first period to conclude a 70-yard drive.

Stanton bounced back early in the second period. After recovering a fumble on the JU 15, Doug Hamilton swept around the end for 10 yards and the TD. A pass for the conversion failed.

WITH four minutes remaining in the opening half, Craig Carmen busted off tackle for a 75 - yard touchdown romp to put JU in front for good, 12-6.

On the final play of the first half, quarterback Larry Kelly hit Riggs with a pass for another TD and Riggs added the conversion to up the count to 20-6.

In the third quarter, Riggs found the end zone again on a 10-yard sweep to complete an 80 yard drive.

—:—

STANTON Local moved the ball well in the third quarter and a 45-yard pass from Norm Grimm to John Leedy set up the Raiders second touchdown. Elmer Tice scored it on a four-yard jaunt then added the conversion.

JU's final touchdown came after a fumble which was recovered on the Stanton 30. Riggs went over several plays later from the six and put over the conversion.

Stanton was handicapped by the loss of regular quarterback Randy Perkins who suffered a back injury and was taken to City Hospital where he was in "fair condition."

GRIMM, a regular end replaced Perkins but he suffered an ankle injury and Stanton ended the game with a freshman quarterback.

JU had a big edge in yardage during the contest.

Coach Howard Gilger's Stanton team will take a 4-3-1 record into next week's final game at Smithfield.

JU Finishes Season Undefeated

Winning Streak At Stake For Bears, Colts Sunday

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Bears soon will learn whether their two-pronged time bomb will explode again or turn into a dud.

The Baltimore Colts will find out, too, and for the sake of their five-game winning streak and their title chances, they hope they'll be able to muffle the Bears' bombs.

The Colts play Chicago Sunday and must win to retain at least a share of the lead in the National Football League's Western Conference.

The Green Bay Packers, currently tied with Baltimore, will try to rebound against Detroit after Chicago snapped their six-game winning string last Sunday.

Tre Bears' victory extended their winning streak to four, a streak that has been fired by youthful backs Gale Sayers and Andy Livingston.

Sayers is a 22-year-old rookie while Livingston is a 21-year-old sophomore who never played college football. Together they have gained 971 yards through rushing and pass receiving, a total exceeded by only three pairs of backs in the league.

Eight-year veteran Jon Arnett is one Bear whose job has become competitive as a result. Last week he led the team in rushing with 73 yards.

"I had to run that way," he explained, "or those kids wouldn't let me back in the lineup."

In the rest of the NFL lineup for Sunday, it will be Philadelphia at Cleveland, Los Angeles at Minnesota, Pittsburgh at St. Louis, Washington at New York and San Francisco at Dallas.

Green Bay and Bart Starr will try to start another winning streak against Detroit. Starr seeks to recover his form after the Bears intercepted three of his passes and twice threw him for losses.

Cleveland also will try to start another winning string. Minnesota broke the Browns' four-game streak last week, but the Browns remain one game ahead of their closest Eastern Conference competitors, St. Louis and New York.

Leetonia's touchdowns came on a three yard jaunt by Dave Bell in the third quarter and a seven yard run by Allen Bloor in the fourth.

Kerr Misses 1st Game Of Pro Career

By The Associated Press

Johnny Kerr stepped out of a shadow five days ago when the Baltimore Bullets traded Walt Bellamy to New York.

Friday night the 6-foot-9 Kerr stepped back into the shadow — and missed the first National Basketball Association game of his 12-year pro career.

Kerr's iron-man stint of 917 consecutive NBA games slipped away as the Bullets dropped a 129-118 verdict to hot-shooting Sam Jones and the champion Boston Celtics. The big redhead, whose streak included 844 regular-season games, had not sat one out since breaking into the league in 1954 with the Syracuse Nats.

Wilt Chamberlain, whom Kerr understudied at Philadelphia last season, also was on the bench when the 76ers broke open a three-point game with a third-quarter spurt that led to a 133-115 victory over San Francisco.

Cincinnati beat Detroit 120-114, and Los Angeles nipped St. Louis 118-116 inother games.

Leopards Win 27th Straight At Palestine

Chelbeck raced 52 yards for one touchdown and six and seven yards for two others to pace the rout.

Louisville scored in every quarter as the Leopards clinched the Tri - County League title.

U.S. Expects Major Policy Objective

Severe Crisis In NATO Seen In De Gaulle's Bid

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles de Gaulle's announcement that he will stand for re-election as president of France is regarded by U.S. officials as assuring a severe crisis in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

These officials believe a major foreign policy objective of De Gaulle in a new term as president would be to reduce progressively U.S. military and political influence in Europe.

They expect him to attempt this primarily through a radical recasting of the alliance. The belief here is that he probably would focus first on French proposals for reorganizing the NATO military structure in such a way as to do away with the integration of Allied forces under a top American commander.

U.S. strategy and tactics for dealing with De Gaulle's anticipated move are still undetermined. Conferences on this country's European policy are under way. In general, the dominant view of administration officials is that if worst came to worst the United States would work with other European allies to maintain a military system within the alliance and without France, if necessary.

Washington considers integration of NATO military forces under a supreme commander — now U.S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer — an essential arrangement for the defense of the West against Communist power. In the American view, which has wide Allied support outside France, destruction of the integrated system would weaken the West.

De Gaulle told a news conference Sept. 9 that so far as France is concerned integration will have to come to an end by 1969 at the latest.

In official Washington's view, De Gaulle, if elected as expected, would pursue the following major foreign policy objectives, practically all of which run counter to long-established U.S. purposes:

1. Rearrangement of French international commitments to give the French government full freedom of action. It is believed here this means reducing the Atlantic Alliance to the status of a traditional Allied relationship in which countries promise aid to each other in event of war but do not coordinate forces or strategies beforehand.

2. Whittling down American influence in Europe while increasing French influence. In this connection De Gaulle is considered to regard France's independent nuclear force, which soon will be operational, as evidence of France's status as a first-class power in the world and the only such power on the Continent west of Russia.

3. Denial to Britain of an effective role in continental politics. Several years ago De Gaulle blocked Britain's U.S.-supported bid for membership in the European Common Market and made clear that if Britain ever joined in the future it would have to be pretty much on French terms.

4. Denial to West Germany of any participation in any kind of NATO nuclear force, such as the United States has urged on the European Allies for several years.

5. Formation of closer ties with the Soviet Union wherever Moscow and Paris can discover common interests as a basis for cooperation. De Gaulle has spoken in the past of a European system of nations stretching from the Atlantic to the Ural Mountains.

In general, in dealing with the problems posed by De Gaulle, President Johnson appears to face a choice of two major courses of action.

One would be to let the European Allies take the lead in countering De Gaulle's proposals to reorganize NATO and his efforts to block the formation of a NATO nuclear force.

The other would be to reassert a strong U.S. leadership to move NATO forward, particularly on the nuclear weapons problem.

A year ago when the nuclear issue was stalemated and both West Germany and France faced elections, Johnson instructed the State and Defense Departments and other interested government agencies not to press for early solutions.

Presumably by the time he meets Erhard he will have decided whether to stay with that strategy a while longer or revert to a more active role for the United States.

Growing Problem

Blindness On Increase, Research Unit Declares

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are 10 million blind people in the world, and blindness is increasing at an alarming rate, an organization devoted to fighting blindness reported today.

In the United States alone, 350,000 people are totally blind and 650,000 others are functionally blind, that is, they are so handicapped they cannot read this even with the aid of eyeglasses.

And while blindness increases, approximately 80 per cent of the blindness cases result from disease whose cause is still unknown to science.

This information was made available by Research To Prevent Blindness, Inc.

Here is some additional data:

In addition to the million blind or functionally blind Americans, 90 million Americans have some eye malfunction. This is almost half the U.S. population.

The nation spends $1 billion a year to care for persons already blind and less than $10 million a year on eye research.

Only 5 per cent of blindness cases are caused by injuries, and only about 3 per cent are caused by poisoning.

The greatest single cause of blindness is trachoma, a virus disease of the eyelids that can lead to serious scratching of the eyeballs. Most prevalent in Africa, trachoma affects about a sixth of the world's population.

Court Ruling On Oath Brings Legal Morass In Maryland

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A Baltimore atheist in Texas, a man on death row, the Buddhist who caused it all, and some 3,000 others are probably not at all unhappy over Maryland's current legal morass.

The Maryland Court of Appeals said Friday that almost every pending criminal indictment in the state is invalid. This would affect about 3,000 cases.

The state's highest court said the indictments are defective because of a provision of the Maryland Constitution which requires all members of grand and trial juries to affirm a belief in a Supreme Being. The court ruled the oath unconstitutional.

The Maryland court crisis began Oct. 11 when the court overturned the murder conviction of Lidge Schowgurow, a Buddhist, because the juries which indicted and convicted him were composed of jurors required to affirm a belief in God.

One result of the decision has been that Maryland has dropped an effort to have Baltimore atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair extradited from Texas on certain misdemeanor charges.

The court's decision could affect many more than the pending 3,000 cases if a man who is scheduled to die in the state's gas chamber in two weeks brings a legally valid point Tuesday.

William Ralph, 32, challenged the grand jury which indicted him for raping a housewife. He also was convicted.

The court, in its Oct. 11 decision, specified that the decision would affect all cases "not finally determined."

But Ralph's case, though finally determined, will be reviewed nonetheless by Baltimore's chief federal judge, Roszel C. Thomsen. Thomsen said the importance of the question posed in Ralph's case required him to postpone all scheduled cases to take up the matter.

Nudist Law Seen Naked Of Proper Legal Definitions

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee nudists say a state law banning nudism is stark naked of definition and violates their civil rights.

The state agreed that the act is a trifle vague but argued that disrobing completely in certain circumstances borders on lewdness and indecency.

These arguments were taken under advisement Friday by a three-judge panel in U.S. District Court, which was asked by the American Sun Bathing Association, Inc., and the Tennessee Outdoor Club, Inc., to declare the new law unconstitutional.

They said the law infringed on their rights under several amendments to the Constitution and was vague and indefinite.

Specifically, the statute outlaws nudist colonies and the practice of nudism.

"What the devil is a nudist practice, and what is a nudist?" asked attorney Bernard Bernstein, lawyer for the nudists. "The statute is stark naked" of definition, he said.

The law resulted from a helicopter flight by State Rep. Gaines Morton, R-Knoxville, over a forest north of here in the summer of 1964. He spotted nudists romping in the woods.

Tavern Man Killed

Reversal Slated On Rule Barring Student Lunches

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Robert F. Russel, president of the school board of Chester Township, says he will ask for a reversal of a controversial school lunch regulation that led to the suspension of two pupils at the school.

The rule requires pupils to pay for cafeteria lunches and bars them from bringing their own.

The parents of Charles Steward Jr., 15, and his sister, Peggy, 8, refused to pay the 35 cents for food, which the children didn't eat. They were suspended for three days.

Russel said Friday the final decision involving the regulation must come from the school board, which meets next Wednesday night.

He said his decision to ask for a reversal of the regulation came after a meeting with the PTA and was made because the school now has enough volunteer assistants in the cafeteria to make the change feasible.

Mrs. Steward said she was happy a change was in prospect. "All the same," she added, "we're keeping our fingers crossed, waiting to see what happens Wednesday night."

Jennings Found Guilty In Slaying Of Akron Officer

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Charles Jennings Jr., 26, of Akron faces mandatory life imprisonment after being convicted of first-degree murder in the April 10 slaying of Akron policeman Eugene Hooper.

The verdict was returned Friday by a Summit County Common Pleas Court jury of nine men and three women after deliberating 15 hours. The jury recommended mercy, making a life sentence mandatory.

Jennings jumped to his feet after the verdict was read and shouted:

"Judge, I didn't shoot him — I didn't! I didn't! I want everyone to know I didn't shoot him."

Jennings was indicted for first-degree murder with Terrence Landry Jr., also 26 and of Akron.

Landry, awaiting trial, testified against Jennings.

Patrolman Frank Mancini and reserve officer Harold Wintrow were wounded in the early morning shooting and remain partially paralyzed.

Woman, 40, Claimed In Canton Home Fire

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A 40-year-old Canton woman, Mary Musisca, died early today in a $2,500 fire at her home.

The blaze began on a living room sofa and apparently was caused by careless smoking, firemen said.

Approximately 30 per cent of Americans are allergic to various foodstuffs.

U.S. Expects Major Policy Objective

Severe Crisis In NATO Seen In De Gaulle's Bid

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles de Gaulle's announcement that he will stand for re-election as president of France is regarded by U.S. officials as assuring a severe crisis in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

These officials believe a major foreign policy objective of De Gaulle in a new term as president would be to reduce progressively U.S. military and political influence in Europe.

They expect him to attempt this primarily through a radical recasting of the alliance. The belief here is that he probably would focus first on French proposals for reorganizing the NATO military structure in such a way as to do away with the integration of Allied forces under a top American commander.

U.S. strategy and tactics for dealing with De Gaulle's anticipated move are still undetermined. Conferences on this country's European policy are under way. In general, the dominant view of administration officials is that if worst came to worst the United States would work with other European allies to maintain a military system within the alliance and without France, if necessary.

Washington considers integration of NATO military forces under a supreme commander — now U.S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer — an essential arrangement for the defense of the West against Communist power. In the American view, which has wide Allied support outside France, destruction of the integrated system would weaken the West.

De Gaulle told a news conference Sept. 9 that so far as France is concerned integration will have to come to an end by 1969 at the latest.

In official Washington's view, De Gaulle, if elected as expected, would pursue the following major foreign policy objectives, practically all of which run counter to long-established U.S. purposes:

1. Rearrangement of French international commitments to give the French government full freedom of action. It is believed here this means reducing the Atlantic Alliance to the status of a traditional Allied relationship in which countries promise aid to each other in event of war but do not coordinate forces or strategies beforehand.

2. Whittling down American influence in Europe while increasing French influence. In this connection De Gaulle is considered to regard France's independent nuclear force, which soon will be operational, as evidence of France's status as a first-class power in the world and the only such power on the Continent west of Russia.

3. Denial to Britain of an effective role in continental politics. Several years ago De Gaulle blocked Britain's U.S.-supported bid for membership in the European Common Market and made clear that if Britain ever joined in the future it would have to be pretty much on French terms.

4. Denial to West Germany of any participation in any kind of NATO nuclear force, such as the United States has urged on the European Allies for several years.

5. Formation of closer ties with the Soviet Union wherever Moscow and Paris can discover common interests as a basis for cooperation. De Gaulle has spoken in the past of a European system of nations stretching from the Atlantic to the Ural Mountains.

In general, in dealing with the problems posed by De Gaulle, President Johnson appears to face a choice of two major courses of action.

One would be to let the European Allies take the lead in countering De Gaulle's proposals to reorganize NATO and his efforts to block the formation of a NATO nuclear force.

The other would be to reassert a strong U.S. leadership to move NATO forward, particularly on the nuclear weapons problem.

A year ago when the nuclear issue was stalemated and both West Germany and France faced elections, Johnson instructed the State and Defense Departments and other interested government agencies not to press for early solutions.

Presumably by the time he meets Erhard he will have decided whether to stay with that strategy a while longer or revert to a more active role for the United States.

Growing Problem

Blindness On Increase, Research Unit Declares

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are 10 million blind people in the world, and blindness is increasing at an alarming rate, an organization devoted to fighting blindness reported today.

In the United States alone, 350,000 people are totally blind and 650,000 others are functionally blind, that is, they are so handicapped they cannot read this even with the aid of eyeglasses.

And while blindness increases, approximately 80 per cent of the blindness cases result from disease whose cause is still unknown to science.

This information was made available by Research To Prevent Blindness, Inc.

Here is some additional data:

In addition to the million blind or functionally blind Americans, 90 million Americans have some eye malfunction. This is almost half the U.S. population.

The nation spends $1 billion a year to care for persons already blind and less than $10 million a year on eye research.

Only 5 per cent of blindness cases are caused by injuries, and only about 3 per cent are caused by poisoning.

The greatest single cause of blindness is trachoma, a virus disease of the eyelids that can lead to serious scratching of the eyeballs. Most prevalent in Africa, trachoma affects about a sixth of the world's population.

Court Ruling On Oath Brings Legal Morass In Maryland

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A Baltimore atheist in Texas, a man on death row, the Buddhist who caused it all, and some 3,000 others are probably not at all unhappy over Maryland's current legal morass.

The Maryland Court of Appeals said Friday that almost every pending criminal indictment in the state is invalid. This would affect about 3,000 cases.

The state's highest court said the indictments are defective because of a provision of the Maryland Constitution which requires all members of grand and trial juries to affirm a belief in a Supreme Being. The court ruled the oath unconstitutional.

The Maryland court crisis began Oct. 11 when the court overturned the murder conviction of Lidge Schowgurow, a Buddhist, because the juries which indicted and convicted him were composed of jurors required to affirm a belief in God.

One result of the decision has been that Maryland has dropped an effort to have Baltimore atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair extradited from Texas on certain misdemeanor charges.

The court's decision could affect many more than the pending 3,000 cases if a man who is scheduled to die in the state's gas chamber in two weeks brings a legally valid point Tuesday.

William Ralph, 32, challenged the grand jury which indicted him for raping a housewife. He also was convicted.

The court, in its Oct. 11 decision, specified that the decision would affect all cases "not finally determined."

But Ralph's case, though finally determined, will be reviewed nonetheless by Baltimore's chief federal judge, Roszel C. Thomsen. Thomsen said the importance of the question posed in Ralph's case required him to postpone all scheduled cases to take up the matter.

Nudist Law Seen Naked Of Proper Legal Definitions

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee nudists say a state law banning nudism is stark naked of definition and violates their civil rights.

The state agreed that the act is a trifle vague but argued that disrobing completely in certain circumstances borders on lewdness and indecency.

These arguments were taken under advisement Friday by a three-judge panel in U.S. District Court, which was asked by the American Sun Bathing Association, Inc., and the Tennessee Outdoor Club, Inc., to declare the new law unconstitutional.

They said the law infringed on their rights under several amendments to the Constitution and was vague and indefinite.

Specifically, the statute outlaws nudist colonies and the practice of nudism.

"What the devil is a nudist practice, and what is a nudist?" asked attorney Bernard Bernstein, lawyer for the nudists. "The statute is stark naked" of definition, he said.

The law resulted from a helicopter flight by State Rep. Gaines Morton, R-Knoxville, over a forest north of here in the summer of 1964. He spotted nudists romping in the woods.

Tavern Man Killed

Reversal Slated On Rule Barring Student Lunches

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Robert F. Russel, president of the school board of Chester Township, says he will ask for a reversal of a controversial school lunch regulation that led to the suspension of two pupils at the school.

The rule requires pupils to pay for cafeteria lunches and bars them from bringing their own.

The parents of Charles Steward Jr., 15, and his sister, Peggy, 8, refused to pay the 35 cents for food, which the children didn't eat. They were suspended for three days.

Russel said Friday the final decision involving the regulation must come from the school board, which meets next Wednesday night.

He said his decision to ask for a reversal of the regulation came after a meeting with the PTA and was made because the school now has enough volunteer assistants in the cafeteria to make the change feasible.

Mrs. Steward said she was happy a change was in prospect. "All the same," she added, "we're keeping our fingers crossed, waiting to see what happens Wednesday night."

Jennings Found Guilty In Slaying Of Akron Officer

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Charles Jennings Jr., 26, of Akron faces mandatory life imprisonment after being convicted of first-degree murder in the April 10 slaying of Akron policeman Eugene Hooper.

The verdict was returned Friday by a Summit County Common Pleas Court jury of nine men and three women after deliberating 15 hours. The jury recommended mercy, making a life sentence mandatory.

Jennings jumped to his feet after the verdict was read and shouted:

"Judge, I didn't shoot him — I didn't! I didn't! I want everyone to know I didn't shoot him."

Jennings was indicted for first-degree murder with Terrence Landry Jr., also 26 and of Akron.

Landry, awaiting trial, testified against Jennings.

Patrolman Frank Mancini and reserve officer Harold Wintrow were wounded in the early morning shooting and remain partially paralyzed.

Woman, 40, Claimed In Canton Home Fire

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A 40-year-old Canton woman, Mary Musisca, died early today in a $2,500 fire at her home.

The blaze began on a living room sofa and apparently was caused by careless smoking, firemen said.

Approximately 30 per cent of Americans are allergic to various foodstuffs.

QUESTION: What made the water flow in the ancient Roman fountains?

ANSWER: Once, simple Latin farmers lived on the site of the city of Rome. They could get enough water from springs and wells to satisfy their needs. But as a great city began to grow, the Romans began to have water problems similar to those our cities have today. They needed more water. In 312 B.C., they built a seven-mile tunnel to bring water from outside springs into the city. Later, needing still more water, they built large aqueducts, or stone arches which carried a water canal on top. They were so arranged that there was a slight downward slant from the spring, which was always on a higher level, to the city below, the force of gravity acting to make the water flow downward. Such aqueducts brought clean water from springs high in the Sabine hills, 44 miles away. It was first stored in a reservoir or castellum. From there, by gravity again, the water flowed into outdoor fountains, from which the public could fill water jars, or it was piped into many houses of wealthy people. In the warm climate, patrician Romans greatly enjoyed a fountain sending up sprays of water inside their houses, an example of which is shown in our picture. Fountains were generally located in the center of the patio, or inside court.

FOR YOU TO DO: Attach a garden hose to a tap and turn on slightly. Hold the open end up; the water will bubble up, much in the way it would in the Roman public fountains. Now close the opening a bit; the water will spout up in more of a spray. Of course the water in the hose is under pressure, but so was the water in the ancient fountains—pressure created by gravity.

Locher Plans Inauguration At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Officially re-elected or not, Mayor Ralph S. Locher says he is going ahead with his inauguration Monday morning.

He said Friday the city charter "calls for the swearing in on Monday and I'm going to be sworn in on Monday."

Earlier in the day the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections upheld a contention by Carl B. Stokes that state law does not allow Locher to be certified the winner in Tuesday's election until Stokes has a chance to seek a recount.

Stokes, a Negro lawyer and state representative, lost to Locher by 2,458 votes according to the unofficial count. He ran as an Independent Democrat. Locher won the Democratic primary in September.

Ray C. Miller, director of elections for the Board of Elections, said the official count should be completed by Monday. State law gives Stokes five days after that to ask for a recount, but he says he wants to see the official tabulation before deciding on what action he will take.

"If the count remains approximately where it is," he told newsmen, "I can say almost categorically that we will ask for a recount."

Stokes said he didn't care how many inaugural ceremonies Locher went through as long as he didn't have the certificate of election.

Whales Receive Reprieve From Hunt In London

LONDON (AP) — London's first recorded whale hunt ended on police orders this week.

The whales, a school of about 30, arrived in the Thames River last week. A circusman set up an expedition in the hope of catching two for his aquarium.

For five days the hunters went up and down river trying to entice the whales into a nylon net. Just as one of the three whaling boats swept into the thick of the school, up came constable George Thirkell of the river police, armed with a copy of the relevant law.

He read Port of London regulations forbidding any person to "kill, injure, catch or trap any bird or animal" in the river.

With that the hunt ended. The whales — pilot whales, some mere calves and others 25 feet long — were last seen swimming upstream.

Ohio Man Laughs At Death Verdict

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A deputy sheriff who returned Cleo V. Keaton to his cell after Keaton had just been found guilty of first-degree murder without recommendation for mercy said the 27-year-old Daytonian was laughing and said, "I knew that's what it was going to be all along."

A jury of five women and seven men deliberated part of two days before finding Keaton guilty Friday on two counts of murder in the slaying of Maurice L. Francis near Williamsport last March.

Keaton also faces murder charges in the deaths of a man and woman near Dayton two days before Francis was shot.

Mayor George E. Willshaw today issued a proclamation designating the period beginning Sunday for observance of American Education Week in East Liverpool.

It termed education week "a small, yet tangible way of demonstrating our appreciation for all our teachers."

Economists Ponder Link

Full Employment Called Likely Price Hike Cause

WASHINGTON (AP) — Is President Johnson's campaign for full employment forcing prices up?

Top administration economists don't think so — yet. But they concede it's something to worry about.

They don't deny consumer prices are rising at the fastest rate in five years — while the nation's jobless rate is being slashed.

White House and Labor Department sources maintain there is no direct connection. But some government experts contend higher prices are inevitable as unemployment declines.

Now that the nation is within striking distance of the administration's long-sought interim goal of a 4 per cent jobless rate, government experts on wages and prices are keeping an eye out for signs of inflation.

"This is something we have to watch," said one.

But this is not to suggest any prospective letup in trying to push the jobless rate under 4 per cent with a variety of job training programs.

The unemployment rate dropped last month to 4.3 per cent — or 2.8 million persons — the lowest level in eight years.

Arthur M. Ross, the new commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said: "My personal view is that it will be in the national interest to keep on going below 4 per cent."

Ross said getting the jobless rate down from 6 per cent in 1962, when the President's Council of Economic Advisers first set the 4 per cent interim goal, has been no easy task.

Forcing the rate below 4 per cent will be even tougher.

"The lower down you get, the closer you get down to normal turnover plus the groups which are difficult to employ," Ross said.

By full employment, the administration does not mean reducing the jobless rate to zero. It means providing jobs for everyone willing and able to work.

Thus reducing the jobless rate to 2.5 or 3 per cent of the nation's civilian labor force — now totaling nearly 76 million — would, in effect, achieve Johnson's goal of full employment.

What has all this to do with prices?

Some government economists believe the drive toward full employment will create a highly competitive labor market, bidding up wages and thus raising prices.

Others, however, say the rapid expansion in the economy can provide many more jobs at current wage levels and absorb more of the unemployed without forcing up prices.

Nevertheless, the government's own figures show consumer prices are rising this year at an annual rate of about 1.6 per cent compared with an annual rate of about 1.2 per cent the previous five years.

More than half the drop in the jobless rate since 1962 occurred in the past year.

A White House source said: "There is no doubt at all that as the economy becomes more prosperous, and the people at the bottom are getting more out of it we are going to find more cases where companies are going to be able to make price increases stick."

Ewan Clague, now an adviser to Wirtz after 18 years as commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, gave this summation of the situation:

"In a high employment economy like we've got now and an unbalanced labor force with a shortage of highly skilled people, a higher rate of increase in prices would be likely to continue."

Ross agreed the problems of labor shortages and price inflation bear watching.

But until danger signals begin showing up in the economy, "we are not in a position to know just how far down it (unemployment) can be driven," Ross said.
